The University of Nebraska open its 85th football season at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Stadium.

The Cornhuskers will face the University of Oregon Webfoots before a sellout crowd of over 76,000 fans, the 68th home game in a row the ticket windows haven't been open.

The weatherman has forecast sunny skies with the temperature in the upper 70s and winds southerly 8 to 18 miles an hour at kickoff time.

Football experts have made Coach Tom Osborne's team a 24-28 point favorite.

Osborne, however, warns that Oregon will provide a stern test for what should be an explosive offense directed by senior quarterback Dave Humm and sparked by Tony Davis running from fullback instead of I-back as he did a year ago.

"If we can move the ball against Oregon we should be able to do so against anybody," Osborne said. The Ducks have eight defensive players back who were starting the last half of last season as Oregon finished second to Southern California in total defense in the Pacific-8 Conference.

Defensively, Nebraska has had to replace more quality players than on offense and the test there will be whether the "Black-shirts" can stop Oregon's newly installed Veer-T offense.

The Huskers lost three of the four deep secondary players who helped them lead the nation in pass defense last season and Osborne may find out early if the replacements are adequate.

Although the Veer is considered more of a running formation than a passing one, new Oregon coach Don Read has said "we'll probably have to throw more in the early tough games, such as Nebraska, while we are trying to perfect the Veer."

Quarterback for Oregon will be Norval Turner, who had the job last season, lost it in the spring to Herb Singleton, then regained it when Singleton broke a wrist on a summer job.

The Ducks have a pair of fine runners in Don Reynolds, who rushed for 1,002 yards last season, and Lincoln-born Rick Kane, who broke in last year as a freshman and gained 430 yards.

Oregon's defense is spearheaded by rugged middle guard Reggie Lewis, an All-Pacific-8 tackle last year.

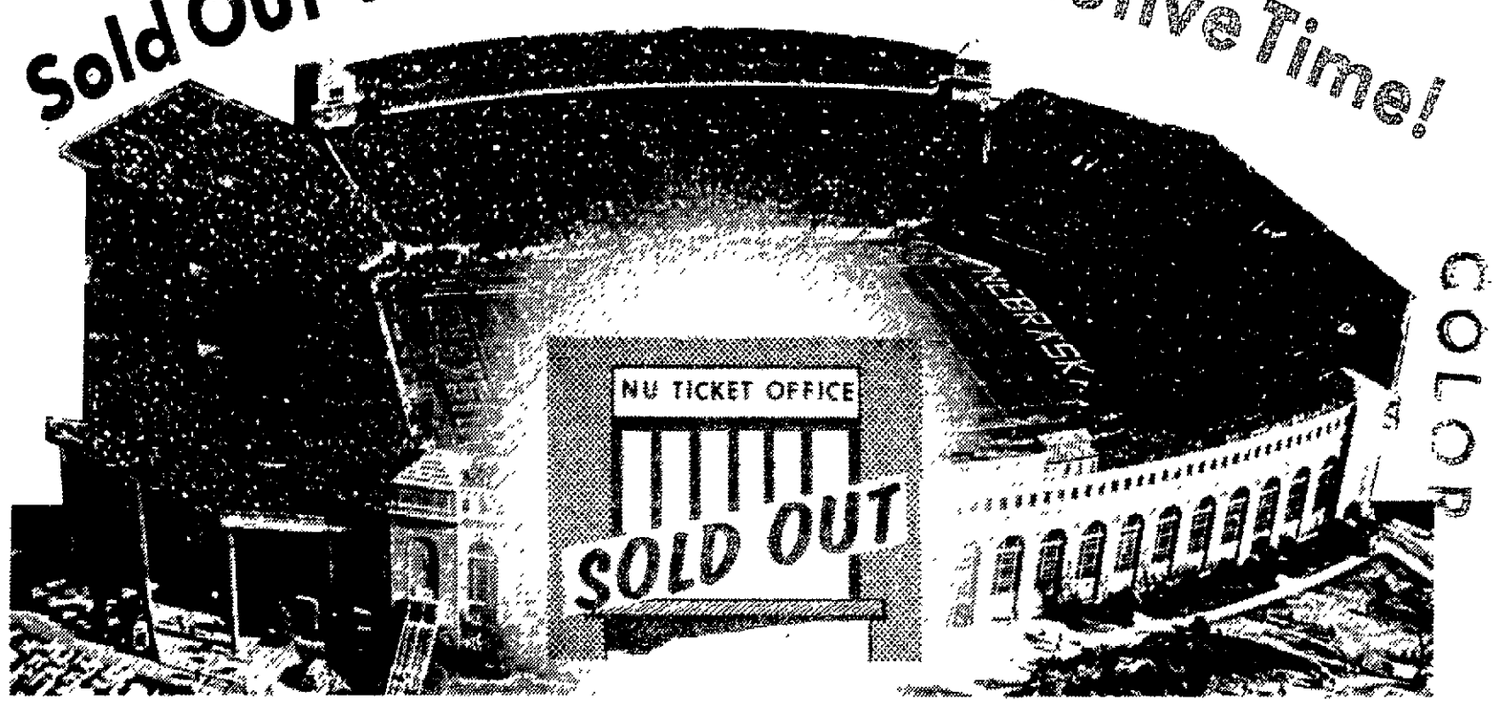
Nebraska has strong and quick runners, too. Led by Davis, who rushed for 1,114 yards last season from I-back, the Cornhusker attack will feature John O'Leary, Davis' backup last season, and wingbacks Ritch Bahe and Don Westbrook.

Osborne plans to use Bahe at both wingback and split end but said that sophomore Bobby Thomas will play more at split end than Bahe.

The reason for the double-duty there is the loss of starter Dave Shamblin two weeks ago with a knee injury that required surgery. He is out for the season.

Nebraska's strong offensive line is headed by pre-season All-American choices tackle Marvin Crenshaw and center Rick Bonness and features Tom Alward and Stan Hegener.

Co-captain Tom Ruud (Humm is the other captain) and Bob Nelson provide the strength of the defense at linebacker with tackle Ron Pruitt, a potential all-star post-season choice.



Coaches' Capsules

Nebraska's Tom Osborne: "We thought last spring we'd have a good team, and we still feel the same way. Losing Dave Shamblin hurt our depth at split end, of course, but we've got some good athletes there. We'll have to play hard and well every game to prove we are a fine football team, but I think we've got the kind of players who will do just that."

Oregon's Don Read: "Nebraska is much more physical than in recent years. They have strong, talented people in almost every position. There's no way to run from their strength or try to exploit a weakness strictly on the basis of personnel It's that overall balance that makes them so very tough to play against."

Terrorists Hold Nine Hostages

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Three armed Japanese guerrillas took over the French Embassy on Friday, threatening to kill the ambassador and eight other hostages one by one. French authorities flew a comrade here from a Paris prison in accordance with their demands.

The prisoner, Yutaka Furuya — like the embassy terrorists a member of the underground Japanese Red Army — was flown by French air force jet to Holland's Schiphol International Airport.

He was dragged handcuffed to a waiting automobile, apparently to wait with five Dutch policemen for transfer to The Hague, airport officials said. They said he was resisting so vigorously that officials had to use rope to help haul him off the plane.

The terrorists, two with pistols and one with a grenade, had said they would begin shooting their hostages at 3 a.m. Saturday, or 10 p.m. EDT, unless Furuya was delivered by that time. They also demanded a bus to take them and the hostages to the airport and a jetliner, fueled and with a pilot and copilot ready to fly them to an undisclosed location.

The deadline passed with no immediate sign of violence.

The drama began late Friday afternoon, when the three terrorists stormed into the embassy and rushed to the fourth floor, where they took their prisoners: the ambassador, Count Jacques Senard; three embassy visitors, and five members of the embassy staff. Two of the hostages were women.

Three Dutch police officers, two men and a woman, sneaked to the floor on the embassy stairs but were met by a Japanese terrorist with his pistol blazing. The woman was shot in the chest, and a male officer in the shoulder, but there was no word on their condition.

Early Saturday, scores of armed police were in the embassy's bottom floors or patrolled the grounds with guard dogs. The building was cordoned off, and three armored cars were drawn up in the vicinity. White-coated doctors and medical orderlies waited outside with several ambulances.

Police sharpshooters were stationed in tall buildings close to the embassy.

The terrorists gave their demands in a note, scribbled in red ink and thrown from a fourth-floor window. It was signed "The Japanese Red Army," the group that gained international notoriety in May 1972 with an attack on Israel's Lod Airport in which 26 persons were killed.

A diplomat said the note promised that Senard and the other hostages would be released after the plane had carried the terrorists to their destination, "but any physical approach would be regarded as aggression and responded to accordingly."

Furuya was arrested on July 21 at Orly Airport near Paris. Police said he told them he belonged to the Red Army and had orders to kidnap prominent Japanese in Western Europe to obtain the release of imprisoned Japanese revolutionaries.

The Red Army gained international notoriety two years ago with an attack on Israel's Lod Airport in which 26 persons were killed.

Outside the embassy, police with bullhorns urged crowds shortly before 11 p.m. to move away from the embassy. They said the Japanese terrorists were getting nervous because of the commotion on the sidewalk.

Rocky Reports $33 Million Net Worth Likely More

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller was reported Friday to have shown a net worth of $33 million in a financial statement submitted to Senate and House committees considering his nomination to be vice president.

Federal income tax returns Rockefeller has submitted, covering the last seven years, reportedly show tax payments of about $2 million a year.

A source who has examined the documents said many of the assets listed on the financial statement are based on original acquisition cost rather than current market value.

The Senate Rules and Administration Committee has asked Rockefeller for further data reflecting present values — an adjustment expected to show a substantial increase in the former New York governor's net worth, this source said.

The source stressed that there was no intent on Rockefeller's part to mislead the committee. He said assets valued at initial cost on the financial statement were clearly marked as such.

These assets included some stocks as well as New York City real estate, the source said, adding that some of the real estate has been owned by Rockefeller for more than 60 years.

"You can imagine what it's worth now," he said.

He said the current real estate values can be determined by real estate tax assessments, while market prices of stock holdings in publicly traded securities also can be readily ascertained.

But another source said "from what material we do have, we can't compute the figure showing Rockefeller's net worth."

And a third source said investigators have not yet answered the question of what would be considered as a definition of his net worth."

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, told the House on Thursday he understands that Rockefeller owns 450,000 shares in Exxon, the nation's largest oil company.

Even at currently depressed prices, this amount of Exxon stock would be worth nearly $29 million.

Both The Washington Post and The New York Times published similar stories Friday about financial data which Rockefeller has submitted to Congress.

The Times said Rockefeller's assets included $400,000 in cash on hand; $8 million in real estate, including homes here and in Pocantico Hills, N.Y; $12.5 million in art works; $2 million in airplanes, boats, cars and other means of transportation; $1 million in furnishings, and $500,000 in jewelry.

Over-all, the statement submitted to the Senate panel and the House Judiciary Committee reportedly listed assets of $37 million and liabilities of $4 million, for a net worth of $33 million.

The Senate committee is to start its hearings on Rockefeller's nomination Sept. 23 and has asked him to make his financial statement public at that time, or sooner.

Spokesmen for Rockefeller have said he will comply with the committee's request.

The Senate committee decided at a meeting two days ago that public disclosure, rather than divestiture or creation of a blind trust, would be the best way to deal with any conflict-of-interest problems arising from Rockefeller's fortune.

However, Hays told the House that Rockefeller's Exxon stock either should be disposed of or placed in a blind trust. Otherwise, he said, "it would leave an aura around here and in the minds of the American people that would be unhealthy and unwholesome."

Experts on the Rockefeller family fortune have said most of it is held in numerous private trusts which technically don't belong to any one member of the family but which provide the bulk of the family's income.

In 1937, when the Senate Temporary National Economic Committee explored the Rockefeller fortune, the panel found that about 30 per cent of it was in various trusts, 30 per cent in foundations and 40 per cent in the hands of individuals.

There is no way of determining whether those breakdowns are still accurate, but many experts believe the number of trust funds has grown substantially since then as the family has grown.

Lincoln Youth Learned Of Resignation In Russia

By PATTY BEUTLER
Star Staff Writer

It was a young Russian who told Mark Fahlberg of President Nixon's resignation this past August.

Touring the Soviet Union at the time, this Lincoln Southeast High School senior didn't know what had really happened in his home country until he got to Poland several days later.

"I was kind of up in arms for a few days," he said, remembering the confusion he felt.

In his two weeks on Soviet soil, Mark found the young people there very "curious" about Americans and quite anxious to meet with visitors.

Traded With Gum

Exchanging sticks of gum for colorful Russian lapel buttons offered by children everywhere provided some spontaneous contact with young Russians.

As much in demand as chewing gum, Mark said, were American blue-jeans, no matter how worn or faded. He sold an old pair of his for 40 rubles (about $52), but had been offered 60 rubles for the same pair.

Unlike many Americans, Mark had a chance to see Russians respond to an emergency situation when his tour bus went off a rain-slickened road outside Kiev.

The bus rolled over and landed on its roof.

"I just walked right out of the thing," Mark said, recalling his less fortunate traveling companions. "Several people were hurt pretty bad."

Passersby Helped

But the Russians pulled through for everyone, Mark explained. He spoke of Russian truck drivers who smashed windows with crowbars to pull people from the wreckage and passersby who stopped to transport the injured to five area hospitals.

However, once the initial shock wore off, Mark noted that his injured fellow-travelers — including an American doctor — generally termed Russian medical facilities a "joke."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fahlberg, 3425 Grimsby Lane, Mark worked on a farm for the past three summers to earn the money to go abroad.

Meeting other young people along the way was no trouble for this 17-year-old solo traveler. In his 3½ months overseas he only traveled by himself for a few weeks.

Toting his backpack — "my home away from home" — Mark used a Euro-Rail pass through most of Europe, with side trips to Egypt, Greece, Poland, Yugoslavia and Russia.

Bribery Witnessed

Mark witnessed first-hand some bribery at the Polish-East German border. He said the guards would not allow the tour bus to make an unexpected overnight stay in the border area until the group had purchased two bottles of whiskey for both the Polish guards and their East German counterparts.

Egypt was especially fascinating for this young traveler who arrived the day after former President Nixon ended his trip to that country. He was surprised to find billboard-like welcoming signs incongruously flanking the ancient pyramids in the middle of the desert.

Lenders Recommend Lifting Usury Ceiling

By BOB GUENTHER
Star Staff Writer

If financiers appearing at a legislative hearing Friday had their way, Nebraska would have no usury ceiling.

The cost of borrowing, some said, ideally should be controlled by supply and demand.

However, in view of the political difficulty in getting such a law passed, some lenders suggested a minimum and a maximum within which interest rates could vary according to economic conditions.

Nebraska currently has a 9% limit on usury which particularly has hit the housing industry hard. Investors can make more than 9% in other types of investments and are switching those funds, hence drying up the mortgage market.

Big Down Payment

As a result, Robert Sim, representing the Nebraska Mortgage Association, told the committee that a borrower is lucky if he can get a $32,000 home with $4,000 down payment.

He said the volume of loans in Lancaster County was down by roughly 20% during June and July.

Elimination of the lid, he said, would provide Nebraska borrowers with the greatest number of loans available.

S. Turner Allen, president of Midwest Life Insurance Co. in Lincoln, agreed, saying, "I don't think we would be hurt if there were no limits at all."

J. B. Douglas of the Tecumseh Building & Loan Association said in a letter read by Sen. Herb Duis a flexible maximum rate tied to some index, such as the prime rate, within a 9%-12% range would be a "preferrable" alternative to the present law.

11-12% Rate Asked

If the rate had to be set today, a number of the lenders suggested an 11% or 12% rate. Whether that would be adequate a month from now is questionable, they said.

Former Gov. Robert Crosby, representing First Federal of Lincoln, suggested the law be made flexible so that a borrower could wavie the 9% limit and take out a loan at whatever interest rate he agreed to pay.

Senators, however, saw problems with that.

"You would surely run into situations where someone argues they didn't know they were getting stuck for 15% interest, or whatever," Sen. Loran Schmit of Bellwood said.

Butz Sees No Relief Yet For Grocery Shoppers

CHICAGO (AP) — President Ford's quest for advice on stemming inflation won't mean lower prices at the grocery checkout counter soon, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz said Friday.

But he said the campaign will provide tools to cool off the nation's economy.

"It will be very difficult to bring help in the near future. It's going to take time to cure this inflation," Butz told a news conference on the last day of the White House-sponsored farm and food conference.

Butz said he did not think grocery prices will soar next spring when the full impact of this summer's drought and reduced grain crops take hold. Despite farm problems, he said, there will be more beef next year and enough food to satisfy consumers.

"The picture's not rosy on food prices," Butz said. "However, it is rosy to the extent that the great bulk of this year's increase is behind us."

The Agriculture Department revised its food price forecast upward last month to a projected 15 to 17 per cent gain for all of this year, compared with a 12 per cent increase predicted earlier.

Butz recently said he thought food prices in 1975 might be held to less than 10 per cent increase.

About 60 delegates representing a cross-section of agriculture attended the two-day meeting, one of a series held in preparation for a White House economic summit Sept. 27-28. They filed summary papers on causes and proposed cures for the troubled economy.

The delegates said the conference was productive and that much valuable information would be made available to the White House meeting later this month. However, there was little consensus for action except to reduce federal spending and to take steps for guaranteeing farmers adequate supplies of fuel, fertilizer and other requirements.

Middleman's Margin Grows

Washington (UPI) — Retail beef prices in late August climbed to $1.465 a pound — the highest level since last February — as the middleman's margin continued to grow, new Agriculture Department data showed Friday.

But an expert added that cattle prices and wholesale beef prices declined in early September and a report available next week may show that retail prices eased down in the week ending Sept. 7.

The data released Friday showed that both an increase in the middleman's share of the consumer beef bill to 51.6 cents a pound and an overall higher average in cattle prices during the month of August attributed to the rise in retail prices.

Despite the overall rise, cattle prices declined gradually each week during August. The beef data showed farmers in the week ending Aug. 31 got 95 cents for the 2.28 pounds of live cattle needed to produce one pound of retail beef, down 5.9 cents from Aug. 10.

The middleman's spread, which covers both costs and profits in processing, transportation and retailing, rose 10.5 cents a pound from 41.1 cents Aug. 10 to 51.6 cents Aug. 31.

Retail prices rose from $1.42 a pound for all cuts of choice grade beef in the week ending Aug. 10, to about $1.465 in the week ending Aug. 31, the highest since the $1.53 record in mid-February.

Buses, Cruisers Pelted In Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Nine persons were arrested and one black student was slightly injured when white youths showered school buses and police cars with bricks and bottles Friday in South Boston on the second day of court-ordered busing.

Seven persons were arrested in three other incidents, two of them stonings.

A crowd of about 400 white youths, with a sprinkling of adults, was involved at the fracas at South Boston High School. It marked the second straight day that buses carying black pupils were stoned in the blue-collar Irish district.

Implementation of the racial balancing plan ordered by a federal judge had gone smoothly throughout the city until the end of the school day. Hundreds of police had lined the bus routes in South Boston to protect against any incidents.

There was no repetition of Thursday's jeering protest at South Boston High. But four persons — including a mother, her son and daughter — were arrested Friday morning when they refused to leave the area.

In Roslindale, another predominantly white section, two white juveniles were arrested when a small crowd stoned a bus leaving Roslindale High School with black students, a spokesman for the mayor's office said. No injuries or damage was reported.

At the Gavin intermediate school in another part of South Boston, a youth was charged with disorderly conduct.

Officials said overall attendance in the school system Friday was 68 per cent of the projected 94,000-pupil enrollment, about the same as Thursday.

The first five buses leaving South Boston High School under police motorcycle escort moved down a steep hill to a bus staging area without trouble. But five additional buses, taking a different road, passed by the low income Old Colony public house project.

Stones were thrown from a crowd of about 200 youths. There were few students on the buses. A spokesman for the mayor's office said one black student suffered minor cuts when a rock smashed through a window. The incident took place about a half mile from the spot where eight black students and a bus monitor were injured in a simular incident Thursday.

The crowd swelled to about 400 as police moved in to force people back into the courtyards of the housing project. A brick smashed the window of a Metropolitan Police Commission van.

Officers surged forward to make arrests and a barrage of stones and bottles came from the crowd. Police vehicles were hit repeatedly.

Oil Producers Raise Their Take

Vienna, Austria (AP) — The world's 13 major oil exporting countries agreed Friday to boost taxes and royalties on crude oil by about 33 cents a barrel.

In addition, some unidentified members of the Organization of Oil Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) announced a "voluntary cut-back in their production level," apparently in part to sustain prices during the current period of excess supply.

Jamshid Amouzegar of Iran, unofficial spokesman for the group, insisted the 33-cent hike should not be passed on to consumers.

However, most oil companies have clauses in contracts with their customers that pass such increases along automatically.

OPEC also decided that starting next January "the rate of inflation in the industrialized countries will automatically be taken into account with a view of correcting any future deterioration in the purchasing power of the member countries' oil revenue."

Saudi Arabia did not associate itself with the increase in the tax rates because it is in the midst of talks with the giant American-owned Aramco group on partial — and perhaps full — nationalization.

The Saudis did not agree to the previous rise in royalties decided in Quito, Ecuador, last June, and their abstention here was not surprising.

Amouzegar told reporters OPEC had decided on the 33-cent hike to counter a 14 per cent inflation rate in the cost of imports from industrialized countries.

The boost is equivalent to a 3.5 per cent increase in the current OPEC revenues from taxes and from sale of oil they receive directly from foreign oil concerns.

According to the OPEC announcement, the posted price — an artificial figure from which the governments tabulate their taxes — will remain $11.65 per barrel.

However, the royalty rate will rise from 14.5 to 16.67 per cent of the posted price. Regular tax rates will rise from 55 per cent to 65.66 per cent after royalty and production costs are deducted from the posted price.

Garden Tools May Receive Tax Break

Washington (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee approved a 7% tax credit on home garden tools Friday in a move to get more Americans to grow their own fruits and vegetables.

The amendment to a pending tax revision bill would apply to the first $100 of the purchase of garden tools, allowing the buyer to subtract up to $7 a year directly from his tax bill.

The amendment was approved on lively and humorous debate.

New Clot Afflicts Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon has a new and painful blood clot in his left leg and is suffering from "severe strain and physical fatigue," his doctor said Friday.

But Nixon is "mentally alert" and hospitalization has been ruled out at Nixon's request, the doctor, Air Force Maj. gen. Walter Tkach, said in a statement that a Nixon aide relayed to newsmen by telephone.

The statement did not say how serious the clot is, and the aide refused to call the former White House doctor to the telephone.

Nixon has been suffering from phlebitis, an inflammation of a vein, for several months. The ailment created the first clot.

"There is a new veinous clot in the former president's upper left leg," Tkach said.

"I have found the former president to be suffering from severe strain and physical fatigue, but he is mentally alert and has been working at his office at home each day.

"The leg is swollen and painful. The clot from the earlier phlebitis, which is still present, causes the former president periodic pain.

"Serious consideration was given to hospitalization, but it has been ruled out at this time based on former President Nixon's wishes.

"The former president will continue to receive medication and will be under doctor's care, and an evaluation will be made on a weekly basis by Dr. Lundgren and myself."

Dr. John Lundgren is a Long Beach internist with a specialty in cardiology who has been the Nixon's family doctor for many years. Tkach said he had examined Nixon on Friday morning after arriving here from Washington and had consulted with Lundgren, who examined the former president Tuesday in Palm Springs.

Lundgren's receptionist said he was out of town — "not in San Clemente" — and would not return until Monday.

A Washington source said the purpose of Tkach's trip was to "determine on the scene whether he (Nixon) should be hospitalized."

New York Times News Summary

U.S., Israel Said Agreed

Washington — Premier Yitzhak Rabin of Israel concluded four days of talks with President Ford Friday and asserted that Israel and the United States were agreed on how to proceed in Middle East diplomacy and on the need to keep Israel militarily strong.

Schlesinger Salesman

Washington — Belguim, the Netherlands, Denmark and Norway are seeking replacements for their aging fighter planes and the United States and France are competing to provide them in a potentially huge, global contract. Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger spent the day trying to prevail on the defense ministers of the four countries to buy American planes. The Pentagon greeted the ministers with full honors when they arrived in Washington for talks.

Intimidation Charged

Washington — Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., has asked the Justice Department to determine whether the Shell Oil Co. attempted to intimidate environmentalists and broadcasters earlier this year with information that was "fraudulently obtained." The issue revolves around a series of radio commercials that were critical of the oil industry.

Industrial Output Declines

Washington — The Federal Reserve Board announced that industrial production — the key indicator of economic activity that measures the output of factories and mines — had declined 0.4% in August. This was the index's first significant decline since the energy shortage of last winter and spring. The August decline put the index almost 2% below the peak it reached in October 1973 before the Arab oil embargo.

Ford Maintains Silence

Washington — Spokesman for President Ford declined for the sixth consecutive day to say specifically how reports of former President Nixon's poor health figured in the President's decision to pardon Nixon only a few days after he said he would await legal charges before making a decision. A member of Congress, who visited Ford this week, quoted him as saying that he pardoned Nixon because Nixon "would go off the deep end."

Keogh's Job On Line

Washington — A political associate of President Ford said James Keogh, who had been a campaign aide and speechwriting supervisor for former President Nixon, will be dismissed by Ford from his job as director of the U.S. Information Agency. Keogh reportedly aroused the animosity of Democratic members of Congress who believed he penalized employes he regarded as unfriendly to Nixon, especially in coverage of the Watergate scandal. Keogh said he had not heard of any plans to dismiss him.

Oil Firms Got Extra $300 Million

Los Angeles (AP) — At least 10 major oil companies realized about $300 million in unwarranted price increases as the result of a quiet change in a federal energy regulation last winter, the Los Angeles Times said in Friday's editions.

A Federal Energy Administration source was quoted as saying that knowledge of the affair existed "at the highest levels" of the energy agency, then headed by William E. Simon, who now is Secretary of the Treasury and head of the administration's Interagency Oil Policy Task Force.

John C. Sawhill, now chief of the FEA and formerly Simon's chief deputy there, said he had requested the FBI to check the activities of Robert C. Bowen, who then was a Phillips Petroleum Corp. executive on loan to the federal government.

The practice allowed by the change of the regulations is known in the oil industry as "double dipping," which permitted oil companies to collect a double markup on oil they were required to sell to other refiners under the oil association program during the Arab oil embargo.

Transition Needs Appropriation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government auditors have ruled that the General Services Administration had no authority to spend money for former President Richard M. Nixon's transition to private life without first getting an appropriation from Congress.

As a result, the GSA obtained approval Friday to use money from a special fund appropriated by Congress for President Ford.

Government documents show that the new administration authorized spending up to $450,000 for Nixon a week before it asked Congress to appropriate funds for the transition.

The GSA already has committed about $6,000 of that money, but Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats said it wasn't authorized to do so.

President Ford's request for $850,000 to help Nixon's transition to former-president status ran into stiff congressional opposition when GSA tried to defend the amount in Senate and House hearings this week.

Advance expenditures were approved by Roy L. Ash, director of the White House Office of Management and Budget.

CIA Denies Role In Coup In Chile

WASHINGTON (AP) — CIA Director William E. Colby said Friday the Central Intelligence Agency "had no connection with the military coup in 1973" in Chile.

"We did look forward to a change in government, but through democratic elections by political forces," Colby said.

Colby made his remarks to a conference on the CIA sponsored by the Center for National Security Studies, supported by grants from three foundations.

He declined to go into details publicly about his reported testimony to a House Armed Services subcommittee last April that the CIA was authorized to spend up to $8 million between 1970 and 1973 to undermine the government of President Salvador Allende of Chile.

The Marxist president was overthrown and killed in a military coup in Chile in September 1973.

Colby said it was "unfortunate" that his secret testimony to the House Committee was leaked in the form of a letter from Rep Michael Harrington, D-Mass., seeking further congressional inquiry.

He told the public conference that it would not be proper to discuss the CIA role in Chile publicly except to say that it came within general principles governing CIA covert activity.

Colby said his agency's covert actions are much reduced in scope now but authority to conduct them should not be circumscribed.

Most Obstacles Said Overcome

. . . In Food Stamp Issue

Most of the obstacles preventing Wounded Knee trial followers from obtaining food stamps have been overcome, but the last obstacle may be the most difficult, the director of the Lancaster County Welfare Office said Friday.

According to Jerry Lemonds, the applicants must have a "disinterested third party," such as a banker, judge or a minister, verify their financial status.

Lemonds said he is "not too optimistic" that trial followers will be able to find such a third party, noting that many of those followers staying at the abandoned Air Force barracks in Lincoln Air Park West "have been on the move for a long time."

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials ordered local officials to stop giving food stamps to people at the barracks in August, alleging a number of regulation violations.

Jim Moore, a USDA official, accompanied by Lemonds and two staff members, Mike Merwick, Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf's assistant, and Russ Wallace, of the State Welfare Department, visited the barrack Thursday,

After that visit, Lemonds said, it appeared that many USDA objections have been resolved. He said that the USDA now apparently agrees that families there have separate living quarters, can cook separately and that cooking facilities are adequate.

There may be a few minor problems, Lemonds said, that can be resolved with little difficulty. For example, he said, families may have to store their food in their own rooms, rather than in a common pantry.

Lemonds said there is food at the barrack now, perhaps enough to last several weeks. But he added that the Lincoln Committee of Concerned People, who are supplying most of the foodstuffs, may have difficulty filling the need "as the cases drag on."

Also this week, the board of directors of the Lincoln Fellowship of Churches asked Lancaster County food stamp officials "to review and reconsider their interpretation of what the law and the regulations require."

The board expressed "great disappointment that the spirit and intent of the federal food stamp law has been violated."

Talk Replaces Protest March

A March to protest President Gerald Ford's pardon of Richard. Nixon and in support of Wounded Knee defendants was canceled Friday.

Frank Black Elk, acting Lincoln coordinator of the American Indian Movement, however, spoke to supporters and students near the Broyhill Fountain south of the Nebraska Student Union.

Black Elk said Lincoln is marked by apathy. "The only thing this city, this state cares about is Big Red," he said.

Game Traffic To Be Rerouted

Football fans going to the Nebraska-Oregon football game Saturday will encounter the usual traffic nightmare and the customary efforts to minimize congestion.

Advising fans on how to get to the game in the first place, Lt. Eugene Armstead stressed, "Get there early."

He said the Lincoln Police Dept. strongly recommends car pooling for trips to the stadium to cut down on traffic congestion and parking problems.

Armstead reminded fans that there is "a lot of parking" at the fairgrounds parking lots on N. 14th and that shuttle buses will run frequently from the parking lots to near Memorial Stadium.

After the game, Armstead said, 10th and 14th Sts. will be made one-way northbound from the stadium to Cornhusker Hwy.

The three best routes to Interstate 80, Armstead said, will be to take West O to the I-80 interchange, to take Cornhusker Hwy. to the airport I-80 interchange or to get on I-180 at 10th and R and take it to the I-80 interchange.

Armstead said that access ramps to northbound lanes of I-180 will be closed after the game at Cornhusker and Superior.

Access ramps at the Hwy. 77 and Waverly interchanges of I-80 may be closed temporarily due to heavy traffic, Armstead said. He also noted that traffic on Hwy. 77 will be slowed because of highway construction.

City Asked To Rephrase Mention Of O St. Closing

Several Downtown Advisory Committee (DAC) members Friday asked the city to reword a section in the Centrum redevelopment plan dealing with the eventual closing of O St. to traffic.

With only four of its 12 members present at the meeting, three members approved a motion introduced by John Campbell to recommend a wording change to "more accurately reflect" previous DAC decisions on O St.

The redevelopment plan for the proposed Centrum — a parking garage and merchandising complex — also calls for sidewalk furniture, landscaping, ornamental street lighting, skywalks and pedestrianways.

In the section dealing with those pedestrianways, the plan provides for the "ultimate closing" of O St. to automobile traffic from 10th to 14th in order to develop a mall.

Campbell said that statement was misleading and could create a lot of opposition to the entire redevelopment plan. Campbell, president of Miller & Paine, said he would be forced to oppose the plan without a major clarification of the O St. section.

At its July 31 meeting, a unanimous DAC agreed it was premature to close the street to traffic at this time. The group did not close the door to the "eventual closing" of the street sometime in the future, "depending upon favorable developments and public acceptance." Campbell missed that July meeting.

Lincolnite Hurt In 2-Car Crash

A Lincoln man was listed in "fair" condition at Lincoln General Hospital with injuries he received in a two-car accident at 12th and H Friday morning, according to police reports.

Police said Frank McGuire, 62, of 2945 N. 12th, suffered broken ribs when his car was in collision with a vehicle driven by Jon Natvig, 20, of 601 N. 16th.

Natvig was not injured in the accident.

3rd Trial Date Set For Sept. 30

The third Wounded Knee trial to be held in Lincoln is scheduled to begin Sept. 30, the chief prosecutor of the so-called non-leadership cases said Friday.

Al Kirshen said that Reginald Dodge, Larry Johns, Mark Fleury and Colin Wesaw are scheduled to go on trial on that date.

All four men are charged with two counts of assaulting federal officers and conspiring to enter Wounded Knee with weapons, Kirshen said. Fleury also is charged with assault with a deadly weapon and second degree burglary, Kirshen said.

Gavit, Coyne Named To Head NU Departments

Richard J. Gavit was named acting chairman of the Forestry Department and Dr. Dermot Coyne named acting chairman of the Horticulture Department, University of Nebraska's Dr. Duane Acker said Friday.

Acker, vice chancellor for Agriculture and Natural Resources, said Gavit is district Extension forester at NU's Northeast Station at Concord.

Coyne is a professor of horticulture, Acker said.

Gavit will also become the acting state forester, Acker said, and both men will begin their new duties Monday.

The appointments are subject to official approval by the Board of Regents at its October meeting.

Special Classes Set For Cooks

Special courses for cooks in Nebraska schools will be offered at technical and community colleges in the state if there is enough demand, according to Ray Steinert, director of school food services at the Nebraska Department of Education.

School administrators should contact local technical colleges for details, Steinert said.

The course has been offered at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the Southeast Nebraska Technical Community College with campuses in Fairbury, Lincoln and Milford.

Individual Said Being Questioned

Lancaster County Atty. Paul Douglas confirmed Friday that police have been questioning one individual more than others in connection with the apparent shortage of funds in the Lancaster County treasurer's office.

He said several people have been questioned in connection with the $5,489 shortage in the motor vehicle division of the office which was brought to Douglas' attention Tuesday by County Treasurer Frank Golden.

Douglas said no determination had been made regarding the possible filing of charges because auditors are still checking the books.

He said they have checked back to 1970 and found no further shortage, but have narrowed the shortage to two accounts.

Because so many different people and machines are involved in handling the funds, Douglas said, he wanted to do more checking before determining whether there has been a misappropriation of funds.

Thompson Head Of Sculpture Plan

Art Thompson of Lincoln has been named Nebraska Interstate-80 Bicentennial Sculpture Project administrator.

Thompson, assistant director for programs at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Nebraska Union, will assume his duties Monday.

Thompson will be responsible for placing sculpture in rest areas along the Nebraska interstate, all of which will be unveiled July 4, 1976.

Thompson holds a B.A. and M.A. from UNL.

The project will be administered from offices in Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery.

Inmate Struck With Hammer

Lancaster Chief Deputy County Atty. Ronald Lahners said charges will probably be filed Monday against a Nebraska Penal Complex inmate in connection with an assault on another inmate Friday noon.

Lahners said that Dennis Eugene Hauschild, 28, was undergoing surgery Friday night for head injuries incurred when he was struck in the head with a hammer by another inmate.

He said what charges will be filed will depend upon the condition of Hauschild on Monday.

Hauschild was listed in "fair" condition at Lincoln General Hospital.

Crisis Service Plans To Train Volunteers

A series of three training sessions for new personal crisis service volunteers have been scheduled at Christ Lutheran Church.

The service is a crisis help line for Lincoln.

The classes will be 7 p.m. Sept. 22, 24 and 26.

All That And A Vault, Too

Such things as requests for huge sums of "transition money" for discredited former presidents tend to make poor folks and editorialists picayunish during hard times.

The tapes deal worked out between President Ford and Richard Nixon not only permits the fox to guard the hen house, but the fox, through President Ford, is now asking that the hen house be built for him at public expense.

Precedent gives Nixon title to the tapes and documents and the agreement gives him control of access to them, although the material is subject to subpoenae — which may be fought by Nixon — over the next five years. The question is why, during the period of limited access, must a new vault be built near San Clemente at a cost of $110,000 to house the material and extra guards be hired at a five-year cost of $250,000? Why, instead, can't the presidential records be stored in an existing government facility under the supervision of currently employed personnel?

Senate Appropriations Committee members are pondering the question as they review Nixon's request for $850,000 to ease his transition to private life. That is nearly twice what Lyndon Johnson received, and he finished out his term. And that is on top of the $60,000-a-year pension and the $90,000 for expenses annually which Nixon will receive when the transition period ends.

We are small-minded about this very small drop in the federal bucket because it is an aggregation of such pittances which causes the bucket to spill over and drown the poor taxpayer who only in the past day or two has read about the second biggest monthly increase in wholesale prices in 28 years — an item somewhat unrelated to transition money, but another cause for grief nonetheless.

We also oppose a lavish transition expenditure because it upsets our sense of right and wrong, considering the fact that Nixon has already received more mercy and less justice than anybody we've heard of.

Appropriations Committee members reportedly are frowning at granting the full request and we hope that attitude prevails throughout.

'Not Fit For A Pig'

Pleased as they were with repairs made at the State Penal Complex resulting from a fire safety inspection last May, members of the Legislature's Judiciary Committee today are convinced more than ever that new construction, rather than continued remodeling and renovation, is needed to replace certain ancient and deteriorated units at the Penitentiary and Men's Reformatory.

During a Thursday tour which included Sens. Richard Fellman of Omaha and Leslie Stull of Alliance, Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln, committee chairman, noted that structural problems make it "impossible to continue to put patch on top of patch. This is a shame. The fire marshal said he almost condemned this building (Reformatory's minimum security unit) in 1971. Here it is almost 1975, and we're still using it."

Although that unit is apparently in the worst shape, serious structural and safety problems at the complex don't stop there. General conditions are not fit for a pig, one senator remarked. Attempts to push new construction packages as part of a comprehensive penal reform program through the Nebraska Legislature have failed the last two sessions. Somehow the commitment that the executive and legislative branches say they have to penal reform wavers when the time for a crucial decision is at hand. Politics flourish and reform, or change, suffers.

The Judiciary Committee tour this week heightened the desire of the members present for a successful penal reform push in 1975. The committee, of course, is well-versed on conditions at the Penal Complex. They have toured there several times before and have held hearings there.

It is obvious that other heads need to be turned. We agree with Fellman's suggestion that a program could probably be agreed upon if the entire legislative membership visited the complex and saw the conditions for themselves.

An invitation should be issued to the governor, too, because strong leadership from the executive office in behalf of penal reform is also essential.

BENJAMIN O. DAVIS, JR.

They Had A Dream

Benjamin O. Davis, Jr. was recommended for appointment to West Point in 1932, but he held little hope that he would be admitted. If admitted, he knew it would be difficult to succeed. In the history of West Point, only three Negroes had ever graduated — the last in 1889.

Davis was an excellent scholar, but in the face of such forbidding statistics, he flunked the entrance exams. He tried again, though, and the second time he made it.

Davis, 22 years later, became a general — the first of his race in the history of the Air Force. In 1965 he was promoted to three-star rank, setting another precedent for the Negro in the military.

☆ ☆ ☆

Born in Washington, D.C., in 1912, Davis was an Army "brat" whose father set him a difficult example. B.O. Davis Sr. had enlisted in the Army during the Spanish-American War. Before retiring in 1948, he had become the first Negro general in Army history.

Young Davis, whose mother died when he was 5, went to grade school in Washington and in Tuskegee, Ala., where his father was assigned as a military science instructor.

Later the family moved to Cleveland, Ohio. Davis attended Central High School, established a high scholastic record, became senior class president and graduated in 1929. He was majoring in mathematics at the University of Chicago when the West Point offer changed his plans to become a teacher.

Davis graduated from West Point in 1936 and embarked on an infantry career at Ft. Benning, Ga. Then came an assignment as military science instructor at Tuskegee Institute where he had been with his father as a boy.

Once he served briefly as aide-de-camp to his father, then at Ft Riley, Kan

☆ ☆ ☆

In 1942 Davis switched to the Army Air Corps, won his wings, command of the 99th Fighter Squadron and a promotion to lieutenant colonel

Later he commanded the 332nd Fighter Group in Italy which flew 200 escort missions without losing a single bomber to enemy fighters.

In 1944 Davis was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross which his father proudly pinned on his chest in a ceremony before the all-Negro 332nd.

In 1945 Davis led a strafing attack on railway targets in Austria for which he was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry.

Davis held a variety of post-war assignments before being promoted to the rank of brigadier general in 1954.

☆ ☆ ☆

After that he became commander of Air Task Force 13, which was charged with the aerial defense of Formosa, and then chief of staff of the 12th Air Force in Germany.

In 1965, then a major general, Davis became chief of staff of all U.N. forces in Korea and second in command of U.S. forces and was promoted to lieutenant general.

Davis retired from the Air Force in 1969, took a job as safety director (fire and police chief) in Cleveland but quit in a dispute with Mayor Carl B. Stokes.

In 1970, President Nixon appointed Davis to head a new program designed to thwart airline skyjacking. In 1971 he became assistant secretary of transportaiton. Under his leadership, skyjacking was dramatically reduced.

State Fair Big Success

Battle Creek, Neb.

We attended the State Fair last week and thoroughly enjoyed the affair. Henry Brandt complains about people sitting on their pocket-books and just looking. Basically, hasn't the premise of the fair always been to "show and tell"? Adults and children bring their products from all over the state to show what has been accomplished. Scoring that, the fair was a tremendous success. Entertainments and midways are side benefits (to whom?). Don't call the fair a failure. It was a great cultural success.

Bouquet: Our thanks for removing the polluting, noisy train.

Brickbat: The litter problem on the grounds and in the buildings was sad. Solution: Hire young folks, put red jumpsuits on them, call them "Litter Bearers" or some such and have them patrol and clean up continually, as at Disneyland.

Let's Start All Over

Blair, Neb.

If Evel Knievel is really sincere about his stunt to jump the Grand Canyon, he is one of the few men left who really knows what he is doing in this country. He wants out — before everything caves in. What better way to end it!

If President Ford follows through, from pardoning Nixon to pardoning all who have been convicted or still have cases pending connected with Watergate, maybe we should scuttle everything and start over new, choosing up new sides. Due process will be out the window. The next step should be to pardon everyone now in prison or accused of any crime. Republicans have made law and order a myth.

The only thing Ford has done right to this point has been to ask that a raise for federal employes be set ahead three months. It should be set ahead three years. It is completely unjustified.

Lincoln, Neb.

We seem to have received the shaft from our two last presidents, both of whom are Republican. Moral: Go to the polls this fall and vote Democrat, right down the line, with no regard for ability, integrity or intelligence. Right down the line, from dog-catcher to the highest office on the ballot, and I think that I have my priorities right.

The result? No matter how we choose, it cannot be worse than what we have had, what we have now.

So? The Democrats have no leaders of merit, the party is chopped up into many warring factions, and anarchy is just around the corner, anyway. At least we will have one telling slap at the Republican Party which got us into this mess!

Miss America And Marijuana

Lincoln, Neb.

We take no exception to Miss America's right to her own personal beliefs. Many marijuana users are also Christians and believe God is within them but, as the 1975 Miss America, we wish Miss Cothran would avoid spreading the myths of 1936. The health of the marijuana user's body may be affected by a variety of factors. i. e., the amount of coffee consumed, the exercise taken, or the nutritional balance of the diet, but to suggest that marijuana destroys the body is simply absurd.

There has never been a recorded human fatality caused by marijuana and we know of no reliable scientific study which has been able to measure any physical or psychological damage caused by ingesting cannabis.

It is this type of ignorance which has resulted in the present laws and the arrest of over 420,000 Americans for maijuana offenses in 1973.

Two Sets Of Rules

Bennet, Neb.

Congratulations to Senator Carl Curtis! He was finally right for once in his life. There was a double agent in the White House. A man who told ex-King Richard that if he resigned, he (Gerald Ford) would give him a pardon — pardon a man who tried to cheat on his income tax to the tune of $500,000, who lied to the people of the United States, who tried to coverup Watergate and the Ellsberg break-in, who had income tax returns audited of people who opposed him and who accepted campaign contributions over, under, around and through the table.

A pardon for Richard Nixon? What about those who were under him who have already served time for carrying out orders? What about ex-Lt. Calley who is under protective custody for who knows how long for following orders in Vietnam? What about those draft-evaders or deserters who deep down in their hearts felt that all along we were wrong for being in Vietnam?

This is our system of justice and equality before the law — one set of rules for the rich and affluent and another set for the poor and downtrodden. Is there anyone who can justify these differences of justice and eqeuality? Pardon a man who ripped off the people while in office, pardon a man who refused to face a Senate impeachment trial so he could rip off you and me, the taxpayers of the United States, for the rest of his life, and last but not least, pardon a man who became wealthy while in office by abusing the powers of the presidency?

Are Senators Curtis, Hruska and Congressman Thone so blindly loyal that they cannot tell night from day, so deaf that they cannot hear their consciences or their constituents, and so amoral that they cannot tell right from wrong? Is it any wonder that our country is in such a mess? — inflation, so-called shortages crime, lawlessness, Godlessness, and laws for the rich and laws for the poor.

These men are leaders. Is it any wonder there is so much voter apathy when one politician seems as dishonest as another? When it seems that we have a government of the politicians, by the politicians and for the politicians.

Oh, dear God, what has happened to this once beloved country of mine? What has happened to this, the land of the brave and the home of the free?

Deluge Of Envelopes

Lincoln, Neb.

I want to make a very sincere suggestion to all the charity organizations.

All the charities should go together and make up one large envelope for each area to be covered. Each organization should include its own small individual donation envelopes with what it wants to tell about itself printed on each, the smaller and simpler, the better. People don't like their money wasted on flashy, unnecessary and unread literature. No other material should be included. A short note should be printed on the large envelope stating what charities were included and that the people were asked to donate to any or all that they wished.

The rural people in this area, and I suspect all people, are sick and tired of being hounded for money. Last year my husband and I took the United Fund envelope around. We were met at the doors with such hostility, even by friends, that we decided we'd never do it again. People, including myself, detest being told how much they should give!

I suggest that they all go together because as soon as we were done with the United Fund, the March of Dimes immediately arrived. Not two weeks later came the United Heart Fund, then the Cancer Fund, etc. Much of the beginning of the year was spent by neighbors running to each other with charity envelopes. Needless to say, it gets disgusting after awhile. People would be more willing to give if they were approached only once and I believe they would give more if they knew they weren't going to be hit for more money every two weeks or so. Some of the envelopes are thrown into the wastebasket before they even get started.

I for one will never give to a charity envelope again! All my donations will go directly to the hospital or people of my choice.

Choosing One's Loyalty

Omaha, Neb.

Why are Nebraska Big Red fans jumping on the Notre Dame bandwagon when it comes to a showdown between the two teams? They must be Catholic and choose religion over state loyalty.

The joke is on these people because the Notre Dame coach, Ara Parseghian, is a Presbyterian. So why don't they stay with Nebraska in a showdown?

Approves of Devaney, Douglas

Lincoln, Neb.

I don't comment too often on articles in your good newspaper. I haven't had to, until now!

About the article, "Devaney Writes Political Letters" (Star, Sept. 7), frankly, what wrong is there in writing letters on candidates in politics if one believes in them, or doesn't, for that matter?

In my opinion, Devaney and Paul Douglas are both fine men! The Star's little cheap shot was uncalled for and smacks of small political tactics.

Let's be fair in our reporting, shall we? The public is watching and reading. If Devaney said he paid for the correspondence himself, I believe he did.

Get Out The Chisel

Gov. Exon should call in the workmen to chisel from the north wall of our Capitol building, our state motto:

"EQUALITY BEFORE THE LAW".

We should do it because that no longer exists in the U.S.A.

And while we are at it, let's revise the Pledge of Allegiance, from "with liberty and JUSTICE for all," to "with justice for SOME."

A Matter of Conscience

Lincoln, Neb.

The President of the United States will never be prosecuted for admitting he obstructed justice, but neither my family nor I could do this and not be expected to be prosecuted.

The President of the United States will never be prosecuted for apparently using vast amounts of money given to the Republican Party to his fiscal advantage but neither any of my family nor I would dare write a bad check and not make it good.

The President of the United States will never be prosecuted for apparently appropriating vast amounts of tax money to further his own monetary ends as in the misuse of tax money to enhance the value of his property, but my family and I must account for every dime at income tax time.

The President of the United States will go to bed tonight — to sleep, if his conscience will let him. My family and I will go to bed — to sleep in peace.

$2.3 Million Given To NU

The University of Nebraska Foundation turned over $2.3 million in benefits to the University during the past fiscal year — an increase of $1 million — and ended the year with assets totaling $22.1 million, up $2.5 million.

Reviewing the financial statement at the foundation's annual meeting of its boards of trustees and directors Friday, President Harry R. Haynie said these gains were made despite a decline of $1.2 million in total gifts. Contributions in 1973-74 totaled $3,-000,586.

He blamed in part the depressed stock market, explaining that the foundation received some 1,000 more gifts this past year but large contributions, which usually come in the form of appreciated securities, were not as frequent.

During the first six months of the fiscal year, alumni donations were 4% higher than the same period for the previous record year, but showed a substantial decrease during the last half, he said.

Living alumni donations last year totaled $631,300, compared with $596,950 the year before. Estates also showed a decrease of $280,000, with a total of $908,-235 for the year.

Other sources of contributions: Research, $610,146; corporate, $294,368; organizations, $237,496; other foundations, $222,922, and non-alumni, $165,021.

A total of $2,335,314 in benefits was transferred to the University.

Transport For Elderly Is Stressed

By United Press International

The State Commission on Aging agreed Friday that transportation for the elderly, regardless of Gov. J. J. Exon's request for hold-the-line budgets, should be given special consideration by him and the Legislature.

Commission Director Joseph Gaida told the commission he has drafted a letter to that effect which asks for $500,000 to finance reduced city bus fares as well as subsidies for other systems.

A law was passed this year which carried with it a $1 million appropriation for 10-cent bus fares for the elderly. But it turned out the law applied only to cities of the metropolitan class — Omaha.

Another law was passed which authorized the commission to put state and federal money to use in senior citizen transportation projects but no appropriation went with it.

Gaida said when the law was passed this year, projected costs were in the neighborhood of $410,000.

The director said he fully intended to include the original estimate plus the effects of inflation — $500,000 — in the commission budget proposal for next year.

In other business, commission member Dorothy Switzer of Lincoln expressed concern over private firms getting involved in providing services, such as homemaker services, to the elderly.

Gaida said there are three such firms operating in the state and the State Welfare Department supervises them to some degree.

He said some groups have expressed fears that private firms would underprice existing programs and ultimately wind up with a monopoly.

"This is a potential problem," Gaida said.

However, he added, at least for the time being "the Commission on Aging cannot interfere."

Life Begins At Forty:

Some Parents Difficult To Love And Respect

By ROBERT PETERSON

The Biblical dictum to love your mother and father is difficult for many grown children. While the words conjure thoughts of kind, gentle, loving people, it is a sad fact that some parents have done little to merit the love and respect of their children.

"Neither my husband nor I was blessed with good parents," writes a 48-year-old housewife. "Our mothers and fathers neglected us and never showed any interest or understanding. We had to shift more or less for ourselves since our teens.

"We married early and have been hard workers. We saw to it that our three children received good care and educations. They're happily married now and wonderful to us. Our home will be completely paid for in two years and, with a nice nest egg set by, we're hoping life will really begin for us at 50 when we can take things easier.

"My parents have passed on, but now we're saddled with John's folks who are in their 70s and have moved here to plague us. They live in a travel trailer parked at a run-down trailer court, and consider our place their second home. They've spent every cent they ever earned and never planned ahead. I couldn't count how many times they've moved and changed jobs. They talk big and know it all, but they're down to nothing. If it weren't for Social Security they'd be on welfare.

"They've done absolutely nothing for my husband as far back as he can remember, except ignore him or give him trouble. Now they pester him for money, and drop in when they please and expect free food and drink. They sleep in our guest room when they feel like it, borrow our car without asking, and have run up several bills which have come back to us. They seem to think that because they're John's folks and are getting old they're automatically privileged to share the good life we've worked so hard to achieve. Are we really obligated?"

Possibly not. The Biblical dictum that you reap as you sow, has just as much merit as the injunction to love your parents. If parents have been as indifferent as those you describe, justice would seem to demand that they be given a dose of indifference in their old age.

On the other hand, children owe a debt to their parents for the gift of life itself. No matter how unthoughtful and perverse parents have been, they have nevertheless provided their offspring with existence and the opportunity of building a life of their own.

A forgiving nature is one of man's most beautiful qualities. Some ill-treated children have the capacity to overlook parental inadequacies and, despite what has happened treat them with at least some kindness and respect. It may take considerable doing, but we hope you'll be able to forgive and forget the past and try to find some way in which to accept these erring parents for what they are.

Don't Let Your Houseplants Go To Pot

By CYNTHIA JOHNSON
Star Staff Writer

The green plant business is booming.

Young people especially — yes, those same "kids" who, ten or 15 years ago were turned off by Aunt Hilda's philodendron collection — are becoming aware of the beauty and interst foliage plants can lend to even the most meager surroundings.

Those who have been plant buffs for years will tell you that successful cultivation is not difficult — if you're aware of the basic elements of plant care, can use a little common sense and learn by experience.

For people just starting out as plant-raisers — as well as those who have had trouble in the past — the following basic guidelines were compiled with assistance from Azalealand Floral and Greenhouses.

Lighting

The primary mistake made by people in selecting houseplants is that they buy on the basis of what most appeals to them, or what will look nice in that empty nook in the living room.

Having paid no attention to the lighting requirements of the plant they purchased, the budding botanists are frequently disappointed when that favorite plant — which needs a great deal of illumination — dies or refuses to grow in the shady spot selected for it.

When buying a plant, first determine the location in which it will be placed. THEN purchase a variety that will thrive under the lighting conditions available in that location.

Professional plant-growers determine lighting on the basis of "foot-candles."

During a 10-hour period, a plant requiring "high" light should receive at least 4,000 F.C. of light; a plant requiring "medium" light, 1,000 to 3,000 F.C.; and one requiring "low" light, 500 F.C.

For plant growers who don't have access to a light meter, the three lighting divisions may be defined as follows (based on natural lighting): High — full sun, usually from a south or west window; medium — diffused sun which may be available by a window that is partly shaded; low — shade, no direct sunlight as when plants are placed away from a window or where there is no window.

Either natural or artificial lighting may be used. And, in the latter case, incandescent or flourescent lights are both suitable.

Care must be taken, however, when using incandescent lights because the heat from the bulbs, if placed too close to the plant, may burn the leaves.

Most indoor foliage plants will grow better if placed outside — in light conditions suitable for the plant — during warm weather.

Temperature

Temperature divisions include: Cold — 40° to 50°; intermediate — 50° to 65°; and warm — 65° and above.

Most indoor foliage plants do well in the 65° to 72° range, although some, such as orange trees, require a cooler environment.

Usually, plants will not be harmed if the temperature in the house during the daytime rises above the prescribed range. However, continually high temperatures are not good for most plants.

Air Movement

Foliage plants will do best in a room where there is a good flow of fresh air, provided usually by a window. (Even around a closed window, there is some air movement).

They should never be placed by a hot or cold air register, however.

Watering

This phase of plant care seems to be the one that gives the most people trouble.

There are a number of factors to be considered in determining how much water a given plant will need.

The temperature and light cycle will influence the rapidity with which the soil dries out — warmer temperatures causing faster drying.

Another consideration is the nature of the soil mix. The mix used by most greenhouses for the majority of foliage plants is one part peat moss, one part perlite and one part soil (potting soil or loam; avoid heavier soils). Soil mixes which are lighter or more porous than this will probably require more watering (unless the plant likes a dry soil).

And, finally the plant variety must be taken into consideration when watering.

Since every situation is different with regard to the above conditions, it is impossible to predetermine how much or how often you will need to water a particular plant.

As a general rule, the soil for foliage plants should be kept moist (cool) to the touch, but not muddy. Neither should it be allowed to become hardened.

Since most overwatering is the result of improper drainage, a pot, with a hole in the bottom, placed on a saucer which will catch excess water, is the best type of container.

When watering from the top, fill the pot with water up to the rim. The water should soak all the way through the soil, to the bottom of the pot; and any excess that accumulates in the saucer may be poured out of it hasn't been reabsorbed within a day.

Repeat this process as often as necessary to maintain the proper degree of moistness.

Because of the way in which water is absorbed by the plant (it goes to the top of the plant first), browned leaves around the bottom of the plant may indicate under-watering.

Although some people prefer to water their foliage plants from the bottom, watering from the top is acceptable, providing the water soaks all the way through the soil.

And, in Lincoln, fresh tap water (as opposed to distilled water, or "cured" tap water) may be used.

Fertilization

In general, fertilization is the least of a plant-grower's worries. During a plant's growing season (usually the summer months), a monthly application of fish fertilizer.

No fertilizer is required during the non-growing season.

Diseases

Numerous pests, fungi and bacteria may attack foliage plants; and it may be difficult for the amateur to determine exactly what the problem is.

Red spiders — which may develop if the plant is underwatered — are recognizable because they deposit webs in the crevices of the plant's leaves. The tops of the leaves will begin to look mottled, and the backsides will appear red because of the infestation of spiders.

Red spiders, mealy bugs, aphids, etc. can all be eliminated by spraying with an appropriate pesticide, or drenching the soil if necessary. (Read the instructions on the chemical to determine whether it is to be used for spraying or drenching.)

Care must be taken to keep the plant well-watered when using a pesticide in order to prevent burning.

If you are troubled with pests or disease, assistance is usually available from the greenhouse where the plant was purchased. Or, you can take the plant to the plant industries building on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln east campus, where a determination of the problem will be made by plant specialists.

Plant fanciers who are looking for a comprehensive reference work which identifies and prescribes care for green plants, might consult Alfred Byrd Graf's "Exotica 3: A Pictorial Cyclopedia of Exotic Plants" (Roehrs Co.).

Written by a man who has traveled all over the world compiling a massive amount of information and photographs, it is sometimes called "the Bible of the green plant industry."

The lighting conditions listed below provide a general indication of the range of illumination best suited to the enumerated foliage plants. High is defined as "full sun," 4,000 foot candles (F.C.) per 10-hour day (400 F.C. per hour); Medium as "diffused light," 1,000 to 3,000 F.C. per 10-hour day; Low as "shade, no direct sun," 500 F.C. per 10-hour day.

"The heart in your bosom is a 'Muffled Drum beating a march for you and me to the cemetery, the grave, and the judgement of God."

(The following quotation is from The War Cry, Salvation Army paper. Do not know the date but think it was in the early 1940's. We are taking the liberty of quoting it on account of the statement at the close of the piece: "Translated for, 'All the World' by Major Clara Becker.")

"One of the strangest experiences in my life is connected with the war," says Nordenberg, an eminent engineer in Finland. I offered my services to the government and was appointed an officer in Gen. Mannerheim's army. It was a terrible time. We besieged the town. It had been taken by the Red Army and we re-took it. A number of Red prisoners were under my guard. Seven of them were to be shot at dawn on Monday. I shall never forget the preceding Sunday. The seven doomed men were kept in the basement of the town hall. In the passage my men stood at attention with their rifles.

The atmosphere was filled with hatred. My soldiers were drunk with victory and taunted their prisoners, who swore as much as they could and beat the walls with their bloody, bleeding fists. Others called for their wives and children who were far away. At dawn they were all to die. We had the victory, that was true enough; but the value of this seemed to diminish as the night advanced. I began to wonder whether there did not rest a curse on arms whichever side used them. Then something happened: one of the men doomed to death began to sing! "He is mad!" was everbody's first thought. But I had noticed this man, Koshkinen, had not raved and crused like the others. Quietly he had sat on his bench, a picture of utter despair. Nobody said anything to him — each was carrying his burden in his own way and Koshkinen sang, rather waveringly at first, then his voice grew stronger and filled out, and became natural and free. All theprisoners turned and looked at the singer who now seemed to be in his element:

SAFE IN THE ARMS OF JESUS,
SAFE ON HIS GENTLE BREAST,
THERE BY HIS LOVE O'ER SHADOWED,
SWEETLY MY SOUL SHALL REST
HARK, 'TIS THE VOICE OF ANGELS,
BORNE IN A SONG TO ME
OVER THE FIELDS OF GLORY,
OVER THE JASPER SEA.

Over and over again Koshkinen sang that verse and when he finished everyone was quiet for a few minutes until a wild-looking individual broke out with "Where did you get that, you fool? Are you trying to make us religious? Koshkinen looked at his comrades and his eyes filled with tears. Then he asked quietly: "Comrades, will you listen to me for a minute? You asked me where I got this song? It was from the Salvation Army. I heard it there three weeks ago. At first I also laughed at this song but it got me. It is cowardly to hide your beliefs: the God my mother believed in has now become my God also. I cannot tell you how it happened, but I know it has happened. I lay awake last night and suddenly I felt that I had to find The Saviour and to hide in Him. Then I prayed — like the thief on the cross — that Christ would forgive me and cleanse my sinful soul, and make me ready to stand before Him whom I should meet soon. It was a strange night," continued Koshkinen. "There were times when everything seemed to shine around me. Verses from The Bible and The Song Book came to my mind. They brought a message of the crucified Saviour and the blood that cleanses from sin and of the Home He has prepared for us. I thanked Him, accepted it and since then this verse has been sounding inside me. It was God's answer to my prayer. I could no longer keep it to myself! Within a few hours I shall be with The Lord, saved by His grace."

Koshkinen's face shown as by an inward light. His comrades sat there quietly. He himself stood there transfixed. My soldiers were listening to what this Red revolutionary had to say. "You are right, Koshkinen," said one of his comrades at last. "If I only knew that there is mercy for me, too! But these hands of mine have shed blood and I have reviled God and trampled on all that is holy. Now I realize there is a hell and it is the proper place for me." He sank to the ground with despair depicted on his face. "Pray for me Koshkinen," he groaned, "Tomorrow I shall die and my soul will be in the hands of the devil!" And there these two Red soldiers went down on their knees and prayed for each other. It was no long prayer, but it opened heaven for both, and we who listened to it forgot our hatred. It melted in the light from heaven, for here two men who were soon to die sought reconciliation with God. A door leading into the invisible stood ajar and we were entranced by the sight. Let me tell you shortly that by the time it was four o'clock all Koshkinen's comrades had followed his example and had begun to pray. The change in the atmosphere was indescribable. Some of them sat on the floor, others talked of spiritual things. The night had almost gone and day was dawning. No one had had a moment's sleep. "Sing the song once more for us Koshkinen," said one of them. And you should have heard them sing! Not only that song but verses and choruses long forgotten came forth in their memories as buds in the sunshine. The soldiers on guard united their voices with them.

The town clock struck six. How I wished I could have begged for grace for these men, but I knew this was impossible. Between two rows of soldiers they marched out to execution. One of them asked once more to be allowed to sing Koshkinen's song. Permission was granted. Then they asked to die with uncovered faces—and with hands raised to heaven they sang with might and main: SAFE IN THE ARMS OF JESUS, SAFE ON HIS GENTLE BREAST. When the last lines had died out the lieutenant gave the word "Fire!" and the seven Red soldiers had fought their last fight. We inclined our heads in silent prayer.

What had happened in the hearts of the others I do not know; but so far as I was concerned I was a new man from that hour. I had met Christ in one of His lowliest and youngest disciples and I had seen enough to realize that I, too, could be His. "The Lord looketh from heaven; He beholdeth all the sons of men." Psalm 33:13. Jesus said: "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." John 11: 25.

Bachelor Doesn't Bite Bait

DEAR ABBY: I am 29, a divorcee with two children and am considered attractive. About a year ago I spotted an eligible bachelor in town, so I moved into this apartment building hoping to make his acquaintence. I made his acquaintance all right, but that's about all. He says hello pleasantly when we meet in the hall, but I've never been able to get him into my apartment.

I telephoned him one evening to tell him my bedroom window was stuck (it really was), so he sent a janitor up with a hammer. He's not going with anybody special, and he's not a goody-goody because I've seen him entertain women in his apartment. None of them is as attractive as I. How can I get him interested without having it look like I'm chasing him?

GETTING NOWHERE

DEAR GETTING: It's not easy to chase a man without having it "look like" you're doing what you're doing. Face it. He's not interested in you. And any more moves in his direction will make your scheming so obvious that he's apt to hide when he sees you coming.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

PUPPIES DON'T SIT ON FENCES

But people sit on fences. And faithful puppies never question.

Our children, trusting the love and wisdom of their parents, respect even our indecision.

But the moral and religious growth of every child is deeply influenced by his parents' commitment of their own lives to God.

We have outlived the day when fathers and mothers sent their children to Sunday School without accepting their own rightful responsibilities and opportunities in the religious community.

Juvenile delinquency is the aftermath of fence-sitting!

The Church is for the family. Religious instruction and inspiration are foundations of the home. Lives—growing or mature—gain direction only with commitment.

Join the FAMILIES who worship and grow together in church.

Guards Said Issuing Drugs To Reward Prison Inmates

By BOB GUENTHER
Star Staff Writer

A civil rights committee study of Nebraska prisons has charged that prison guards administer prescription drugs to inmates as "rewards" and to make them more docile.

The 11-month study prepared by the Nebraska Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights concluded prescription drug abuse at the prisons could be curbed if only medical personnel were allowed to administer medication.

Mike Adams of Omaha, one of the 12 committee members, said at a press conference Friday that legal and illegal drugs, particularly at the Penitentiary, are "very easy (for inmates) to get." He said the drugs are smuggled through a well-organized system which allegedly involves some Penitentiary staff members.

Adams said the mood-changing drugs, such as barbituates, are given to inmates as "rewards" from guards for favors, such as "snitching" on other inmates, and from other inmates who give them in exchange for such favors as homosexual acts.

'Heavy Reliance'

The study said: "There is a heavy reliance upon prescribing drugs to modify inmate behavior, and these are distributed by prison guards."

John Gale, committee chairman said the drug problem centers around the distribution system. A patient is examined, and a part-time physician prescribes medication. When the physician leaves, administration of the drugs is left to non-medical personnel, such as guards, he said.

Gale said these non-medical personnel can be the source of prescription drugs for other inmates. More medical personnel are needed, including a full-time physician, he said.

Much of the study contained favorable comments about the three main penal institutions in the state — the Penitentiary, the Men's Reformatory and the York Women's Reformatory.

Gale said, "Current conditions in the Nebraska penal institutions are basically progressive and generally superior to what has been reported in other states."

Singled out for praise were the education and work release and vocational rehabilitation programs.

Officials Praised

Also lauded were Warden Charles Wolff Jr. and Supt. Jacqueline Crawford who, the study said, "have struggled to get maximum use out of limited resources — both in budget and in facilities — available to them. Their willingness to speak out and to let inmates speak out runs counter to the guiding philosophy ('keep it all behind the wall') of some prison administrators."

However, Gale said inmates complain that the progressive changes ordered by administrators are frequently not implemented by their staffs.

The study found that prison guards are not thoroughly screened when hired, get little training, are poorly paid and are too often white.

As a result, the committee recommended that an effort be made to recruit more minority guards, lengthen the training period from 15 to 30 days, pay guards better and screen guards more thoroughly.

The committee also recommended that inmates have access to parole files and that the Parole Board cease to deny parole hearings of inmates who have legal action pending against the state.

Buildings Old

The condition of buildings was another source of concern to the committee. The three institutions are "very old and hence limited in the quantity and quality of rehabilitation services they can provide."

A raise in inmate's wages is also recommended.

Gale said the study was discussed Friday with Gov. J. James Exon and Corrections Director Joseph Vitek, who he said were receptive to the study. Some of the recommendations are presently being implemented, he said.

Exon: Curtis Using Agency To Intervene In State Race

By EDWARD W. HOWARD
Associated Press Writer

Gov. J. James Exon has accused Sen. Carl Curtis of using federal agencies to involve himself directly in Nebraska's gubernatorial race.

Exon also demanded an apology Friday from his Republican opponent, state Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, over a news release Marvel issued. The release questioned whether Exon had misused his office to mail campaign letters.

Marvel noted Democrats had complained about the University of Nebraska athletic director writing letters on university stationery supporting the Republican candidate for attorney general. Marvel then produced a copy of an Exon campaign-letter, bearing a Governor's Mansion letterhead, and questioned if the paper, printing and mailing were paid for at taxpayer expense.

"No," Exon said. All of it was paid for by the Citizens for Exon campaign funds." Exon said Marvel's statement was his latest "irresponsible charge."

"I would hope after seeing this information Senator Marvel would apologize," Exon said. "I hope he would agree with me that the campaign should be kept on a high level."

In an interview with The Associated Press, Exon said evidence of Curtis' involvement included a letter Curtis wrote to Ken Bowen, chief of Nebraska's Farm Home Administration, and information Curtis' office fed Marvel about funds for Nebraska's highway safety program.

"I would say for reasons I am unable to determine Carl Curtis' office has been involved directly in Nebraska's gubernatorial campaign, to the extent of long distance phone calls from Washington being place to the Nebraska media to ask them to attend a very political news conference that Mr. Marvel held," Exon said.

An aide to Curtis phoned several Nebraska newsmen Thursday, and told them Marvel would hold a news conference at the State Capitol minutes later.

In his news conference, Marvel said he had learned that the federal government had decided not to withhold $7 million in highway construction and safety program funds.

Marvel accused Exon of having jeopardized the funds by supporting required federal safety laws only at "the 11th hour" during the last legislative session.

Exon's office then produced documents that showed he had supported the legislation throughout the session. Exon, and Motor Vehicles Director John Sullivan, also noted that Curtis' office gave the information to Marvel before informing the governor's office.

Exon then cited a letter Curtis wrote to Bowen, urging Bowen "not to be stamped by Governor Exon or his director of agriculture into processing and forwarding county drought disaster requests too rapidly."

Curtis said a U.S. Department of Agriculture official in Kansas City "has advised me that the governors of Kansas and Missouri are both cooperating by holding all county requests until they are certain" that losses from drought, frost, wind, hail and flood conditions are included in the damage estimates.

Curtis' letter said, in effect, that Exon had erred in having disaster loans processed quickly after his July drought disaster proclamation. Curtis said "Nebraska farmers who suffered disaster-type losses from conditions other than drought will not get the full amount of emergency credit assistance to which they should be entitled" in 15 counties already approved for disaster aid, "unless new disaster requests are prepared, submitted and approved for the additional losses."

Exon referred to Curtis' statement about Exon stampeding the disaster loans through and said "that's got to be the understatement of the year." Exon had complained previously that loans were being held up because of regulations that amounted to "hogwash" and "nitpicking."

Exon noted that two days before Curtis' letter was written he had asked Bowen what actions could be taken to extend the July drought disaster proclamation.

"I have heard nothing back about that at all," Exon said. "And then we find Senator Curtis is encouraging further delay of drought disaster loans to Nebraska farmers and ranchers when many of them need that help now."

Dow Jones Average Hits 12-Year Low

New York (AP) — The Dow Jones industrial average, most widely followed yardstick of performance on the New York Stock Exchange, sank sharply Friday to a 12-year low.

The Dow, which comprises 30 blue-chip stocks, dropped 14.55 to 627.19, the lowest closing level since Nov. 19, 1962 when it hit 626.21.

Brokers were almost uniformly gloomy about Friday's poor showing since the Dow cracked with ease through what they had considered the crucial support zone of about 631, the previous four-year low set in the spring of 1970.

"Analysts are now talking about a further drop of maybe 75 points," said Robert Stovall of Reynolds Securities, Inc. In this week alone, the Dow has surrendered more than 50 points.

The New York Stock Exchange composite index set another all-time low since its inception in 1965, dropping 0.77 to 34.11.

There were 1,185 declines, only 283 advances, of the 1,798 issues traded. Sales were a fairly active total of 16.07 million shares, and volume swelled in the final half-hour of trading when it became apparent that the Dow was flunking its test.

There were no "new" reasons for the session's weakness — just variations on the familiar themes of inflation, recession fears, and over-all lack of investor confidence in stocks.

On Thursday, inflation fears were heightened by news that wholesale prices had risen at an annual rate of 46.8 per cent in August. Later on Friday, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon forecast an over-all inflation rate of 9 per cent or "perhaps more" by the end of the year. That, however, was an upward revision of his earlier forecasts of around 7 per cent.

Fueling recession fears was news in the closing minutes from the Federal Reserve that industrial production had dropped 0.4 per cent in August.

All of this overshadowed the favorable news that a small Midwest bank, Southwest Bank of St. Louis, had cut its prime lending rate by ¼-point to 11¾ per cent. But earlier in the day New York's First National City Bank, an industry pacesetter, kept its prime unchanged at 12 per cent.

While blue chips and glamors were leading the list to lower ground, gold stocks and other precious-metal issues managed powerful gains, coming on the heels of a four-day downslide.

Homestake Mining, the Big Board's most-active stock, rose 8⅛ to 41½. Also active and gaining, ASA, Ltd., spurted 11⅜ to 69¼; Campbell Rd Lake, 4⅜ to 27¾, and Dome Mines, 6⅝ to 42½.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index fell 0.87 to 63.19.

Gain Trimmed In Soybeans

Chicago (AP) — Soybean and soybean oil futures pushed to limits for one session on the Chicago Board of Trade Friday, but profit-taking in the last few minutes trimmed the gain in beans a few pennies.

Corn futures fell around 8 cents a bushel and oats were down the limit of 6 cents. Wheat futures were little changed to about 5 cents lower, and iced broilers closed steady to about a ½ cent a pound lower.

Superior Woman Independent At 94

Superior (AP) — Mrs. Rhoda Feller of Superior is 94 years old but still mighty independent.

A former neighbor, Mrs. Richard Potter, says it was difficult "to do things for Mrs. Feller. She was so independent. She would be out raking the back yard and we'd offer to lend a hand, but she would tell us it was work she could do and wanted to do it."

Mrs. Feller, whose husband died 28 years ago, still does her own housework and marketing and pursues her hobby: making quilts.

"There are many things I can no longer do," she admits, "but I still sew and even piece some blocks now and then to keep busy."

Mrs. Feller began making quilts when she was a young girl and continued to make and sell them until about a year ago.

She welcomes the cool late-summer weather. The heat bothered her this year, but she said it was no worse than the drouth of the 1930s.

Her children insisted that she let them buy her an air conditioner, she said, but "I prefer not to have it."

Mrs. Feller has no suggestions about how others might extend their life span. "I can't say 'Don't be a worrier' because I've always worried, though I don't think worry changes things.

Her three children live in Florida, Colorado and Michigan. She said all have asked her to live with them.

"But they each have their own lives to live and have different interests. And of course, they are in their 70s."

$26.7 Million Is Asked For Six College Areas

By DICK HOLMAN
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Technical Community Colleges Friday recommended to Gov. J. James Exon that the six Nebraska community college areas get a total of $26,737,038 for 1975-76 continuation and expansion budgets.

The total excludes funding proposals for new programs, capital outlay for equipment and capital construction. Chairman Arlo Wirth of Hartington said the board will review those budget requests for action in November.

The area boards had requested $30,704,408, excluding capital construction. Yet in paring the total, the state board's recommendation still represents a 16% overall increase compared to the 1974-75 budget of $20,990,238.

Gradual Phase-In

State board Executive Director Robert C. Schleiger said the review for the remaining funding recommendations should result in a schedule to phase in gradually new programs and equipment, rather than budgeting them all in the 1975-76 proposals.

In separate action, the board voted to request that the state fund the state board's agency budget for 1975-76 at $344,799, the fire service and safety program at $199,490, and the emergency medical training program at $75,546.

Of that $619,835 total, $533,127 will be required from the state general fund, and the remaining $86,706 from the cash fund and federal sources.

The agency budget total includes a new request for $150,000 for new and expanded specialized training programs to meet industrial needs in the state.

The interim total of the requests for community college state and area budgets is $27,356,873.

Request Considered

Wirth told Exon in a letter the board took "into serious consideration" the governor's concern to hold budget requests for 1975-76 in line with those approved this fiscal year.

The board decided a request for 11.8% in salary increases would be "workable," Wirth wrote, based on the January 1974 cost-of-living index, plus 3%.

The board's "major concern," Wirth said, was to allow for reasonable projections to continue developing the "high standards of excellence" in the college areas' occupational-vocational, academic and continuing education programs.

Wirth said the remainder of the recommendations to come in November "will be realistic," but "will not retard the needed expansion" of the colleges to meet increasing service demands.

The state board recommended this breakdown of the $26.7 million total for each of the technical community college areas: Western, $2,852,643; Mid Plains, $3,332,102; Central, $6,644,307; Southeast, $5,642,065; Metropolitan, $5,155,907, and Northeast, $3,110,014.

End Indebtedness

The Mid Plains recommendation includes payment of $300,000 to retire bonded indebtedness in full during 1975-76.

In other business, the board adopted a proposal for continuing education units on a state-wide basis for all non-credit courses.

Each unit represent 10 hours of participation in an organized community service and continuing education experience, under instruction. The new policy, Schleiger said, provides a "uniform approach" to recognize non-credit course work.

The board also acknowledged that the six community college areas may join the new Nebraska Community College Athletic Conference, upon each area board's approval.

The state board did not adopt the athletic conference constitution, reasoning that would allow the college areas flexibility to make changes in it and autonomy in participation.

UFO Sightings 'Natural Phenomena'

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete — An investigative team looking into a flurry of southeast Nebraska UFO sightings Sept. 5 has concluded that the reports were due to "natural phenomena."

That is the finding of three investigators from the Mutual UFO Network (MUFON) following interviews with law officers in Saline, Gage and Jefferson Counties. The team also visited sites from which the observation had been made.

Dr. David Smith, Doane College chemistry professor and MUFON director for Gage and Saline counties, said the reports were "probably due to unusual viewing conditions which caused several stars to appear to pulsate." Similar early morning conditions have persisted most of the past week.

'Air Currents'

Moreover, the planet Jupiter has been exceptionally bright in the southeast to southwest sky. The team found that with binoculars, four of the planet's moons are visible and "give the appearance of rays."

Other team members are Elmer Kral of Grand Island, state director, and physics-astronomy professor Dr. Bill Welch of Doane.

The team said that such unusual viewing conditions have been prominent in the history of UFO sightings. There have been instances, for example, where the Air Force has scrambled aircraft to intercept Jupiter and the star Capella.

Radio Alerts

The unusual number of lawmen involved was due to radio alerts which circulated over the area, the investigators explained. One "still unexplained" report that Minneapolis radar had spotted UFOs near Crete added to the excitement.

"The officers are to be complimented on their accurate observations and the clear manner in which they reported them," Dr. Smith said. "I'm sure if there had not been UFO reports from other areas of the state and Minneapolis that the observers would have seen the unusual appearance of the sky as only that."

Dr. Smith said it is probable that reported sightings in the Fremont area the same night were similarly explainable. Investigations in that area are incomplete.

Cold Snap Establishes New Lows

Crisp fall-like temperatures continued throughout Nebraska Friday, setting new record lows at North Platte and Omaha.

North Platte's 26 degrees, the coldest in the state, was four degrees lower than the record low for the date there set in 1949.

At Omaha the mercury dropped to 35 degrees early Friday to break the old low mark of 36 established Sept. 13, 1890.

Lincoln's low of 39 compares with the record for the date of 34, also set in 1890.

Crop experts indicated Friday it may be a day or two before they can determine whether this cold snap caused any damage to western Nebraska's sugar beet crop.

"In other spots, such as North Platte, the Sept. 3 frost had already damaged other crops, so the effect would be minimal there," said Ron Radenz, assistant director of the Division of Agricultural Statistics.

"It depends on how soon it thaws and dries," Radenz said, noting that molds and mildews could damage the bean crop if the cold moisture lingered.

"Otherwise, I haven't received any significant reports" about the freeze this week, Radenz said.

The bean crop is now in the harvest stage, he added.

Mostly sunny and warmer temperatures, in the upper 70's, will greet football fans in Lincoln Saturday.

Lows Saturday night in the state will range from the upper 30's to the lower 40's, the National Weather Service said.

Partly cloudy and mild weather is expected Sunday with highs in the 70's in Nebraska.

Large Raccoon In House Attacks Broken Bow Woman, 72, Sister

Broken Bow (UPI) — A Broken Bow woman related Friday how she and her sister were attacked in their home by a large raccoon Sunday.

Mrs. Ione Luther said her 72-year-old sister, Mrs. Hila Robinson, suffered severe lacerations to both feet and is in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

The raccoon was later captured and is under observation by a veterinarian.

Attacked Immediately

Mrs. Luther, who lives with her sister, said Mrs. Robinson got up to investigate a noise on the porch at 4:30 a.m. Sunday. The raccoon bolted into the house when she opened the door and immediately attacked her.

Mrs. Luther, who was awakened by Mrs. Robinson's screams, said at first she thought the animal was a large hog.

"It was making grunting sounds like a hog all the time it was attacking," she said. "It was just a hideous thing, I'll tell you."

Mrs. Robinson, a semi-invalid, fell and was unable to get up because a large quantity of blood had made the floor slippery. Mrs. Luther said the animal also attacked her left foot as she finally wrestled it out of the house.

'No Other Way'

"I knew I would have to manhandle it," she said. "There was no other way out."

Police officer Bob Woodward, who finally captured the animal by putting a garbage can over it, said it tore off his shoe. The animal was docile Friday, according to a veterinarian.

He said such an attack by a raccoon is rare and that the animal was being checked for rabies. Both Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Luther were undergoing rabies shots as a precautionary measure.

Mothers: Children Hurt; Officials Dispute Charges

Mothers of students attending Whittier Junior High, 2240 Vine, have charged that their children "are being harmed both physically and mentally" and that they "are fed up with the lack of cooperation of both school authorities and the courts."

The charges were made in a letter obtained Friday by The Star. An attachment to the letter was signed by Mrs. John R. Gallant, 331 N. 30th, and Mrs. Robert Mischnick, 335 N. 30th.

Statements made Friday by police, school authorities and the Whittier parent organization president dispute the charges.

The letter itself was signed with a typewritten "Mothers of Students of Whittier Junior High School," and did not indicate how many are involved.

Mothers To Talk

A group of eight to ten mothers of Whittier students meeting in a private home Friday night decided to talk to school officials and ask them to take steps to end fights on and off the school grounds.

They said they felt School Principal David J. Myers was willing to talk with them and would make an honest effort to correct the situation.

They said they were also willing to take matters to the police, juvenile authorities, the courts and even the governor to provide what they called the safety of their children.

'Can Be Verified'

The letter said the mothers' claims "can be verified not just (by) idle talk" concerning harrassment, assaults and "shakedowns" of Whittier students.

"Why do the teachers walk back into their classrooms when they see a child being pushed and banged around in the hallways?" the letter asked, and alleged teachers are afraid of what might result from their involvement.

"If it (the alleged harm to Whittier students) is off the school grounds, the school authorities won't touch it, and if it's on the streets and the police do happen to pick the kids up, the courts turn them loose," the letter says.

The letter claimed that school authorities ignore complaints "or try to blame the kid that was beaten, or say it is out of their hands."

No Police Reports

According to a survey of police reports, there have been no assaults reported at Whittier since the public schools opened Sept. 3.

And Whittier parent group president Frank A. Spale, 853 N. 30th, said no alteractions were reported at a parent meeting Tuesday night.

Supt. John Prasch said Friday in an interview, "I don't believe incidents of altercations are significantly greater there (at Whittier) than at other schools."

Police Officer Joe Buda, who visits Whittier regularly as a School Resource Officer, said he doesn't believe conditions at Whittier are much different from any Lincoln junior high.

Buda said he did know of several instances at Whittier last year when some students "shook down" other students for money, but he said similar shakedowns were reported at Goodrich Junior High, where he also visits as a resource officer.

"Schools are frequently involved in altercations" that are either neighborhood- or school-related, Prasch said. "We're concerned about them, and our own staff has usually followed up" by talking to parents involved.

Prompted By Fight

Principal Myers told The Star Friday the letter was prompted after a student was in a fight off school property a week earlier; police weren't notified.

"Although we didn't have any legal authority" for the fight off school property, "they were our students and we felt an obligation to try to clear up the problem," Myers said.

Myers, the parents, officer Buda, and the Malone Center youth director joined to remedy the problem, but Mrs. Mischnick nevertheless brought the letter with the charges to him Thursday, Myers said.

"I'm more than willing to work with parents who have concerns," he said. Myers began as Whittier principal this month and noted, "I haven't seen any major problems as yet" and none that are "any different than any other schools."

Regarding the charges about the teachers, Myers said, "From my observations, they're one of the most dedicated staffs I've ever been involved with."

Said Not Racial Tension

Myers also dismissed the notion that racial tension contributes to problems at Whittier. In a separate interview, Spale agreed.

"People are too ready to believe or make a racial problem where one does not exist," Prasch said.

He added he believed the charges regarding Whittier teachers are false. "There is lots of evidence they care very much about the kids in that area and are working hard, rather than ignoring problems," Prasch said.

Police reports show two assaults by school-age youths have been reported in the general area of the school since Sept. 3. One occurred in a home and was part of a feud between neighbors, police said.

The other incident took place at 31st and R Sunday night: Michael A. Mischnick, 335 N. 30th, and his brother Todd were accosted by three youths, one of whom pointed a knife at Michael and demanded money.

Michael gave the youth his billfold containing 40 cents, according to police reports; while leaving, the youth shouted at the Mischnick children that what happened to another student at Whittier could happen to them.

Police said that was the first they had heard of the assault a week ago near Whittier, and they are currently investigating the incident. The three youths involved in the robbery have not been apprehended.

Michael Mischnick also reported in December 1972 that he was robbed of 25 cents in a Whittier restroom by a youth who threatened him with a knife and knocked him down.

Police said they also remember a youth in the Mischnick family who was knocked down a flight of stairs at Whittier last year and as a result, required hospital treatment for a concussion.

That incident is referred to, without elaboration, in the letter, as well as the withdrawal of the Mischnick child from Whittier. The child now attends a parochial school.

Thone: Foreign Policy 'Runs Off In All Directions'

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Charles Thone, R-Neb., said Friday U.S. policy on foreign investments in America "runs off in all directions at once."

In his weekly newsletter, the congressman said many legislatures are passing state laws to restrict ownership of land by aliens, but the U.S. Department of Commerce "is using our tax money for an 'Invest in America' program to encourage foreigners to buy into America."

He recalled that last month the House of Representatives passed a bill he cosponsored providing for a thorough study of foreign investments.

Earlier the Senate passed a measure calling for an interim report in 18 months and a final report in 2½ years.

"I feel that the problem is too pressing to be delayed that long," Thone said.

Two Encores Reward Music Series Opener

By H. J. ANDERSON
Star Staff Writer

Only in America could a corset salesman with good business sense by party to something like the "Popular Song."

Such people as Harry von Tilsor (real name Harry Gumm) gave the country the popular song around the turn of the century.

Timely, well-packaged music, it was learned, could turn a profit. America's contribution to music was born.

Songs of corset makers, Scott Joplin, George Gershwin and Cole Porter are the music of William Bolcom, pianist, and Joan Morris, soprano.

The pair appeared Friday night at Kimball Hall, opening a three-part "American Heritage in the Arts" series sponsored by the Nebraska Union Contemporary Arts Committee, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Trade In Fun

The two trade in fun and memories.

They are experts in love with America's music.

And the audience took two encores to show its love for the Bolcom/Morris music.

In workshops through the week, the couple spoke about the early entrepreneurs and the wealth of music written during the 1890s through the 1940s, so much of it virtually ignored until a sort of recent rennaissance of that time.

The songs were barometers of the times, they said.

Ragtime prospered near the turn of the century, when finally every bar could afford a piano. There was the giddy music of the gay 1920s, and the down-and-out blues of the depression '30s.

The two Friday night sang the songs through the times, defining decades with costume and mood changes.

Music, Not Volume

Most of it was the kind of song whose choruses everyone remembers. Songs from when music was not volume and lyrics were clearly understood.

Memorable titles: "A Bird in a Gilded Cage," "On the Banks of the Wabash Far Away," "Fascination," and "Makin' Whoopee."

The Bolcoms live in Ann Arbor, Mich., where he is a member of the University of Michigan music school faculty. They have performed at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D C., and Carnegie Hall in New York City.

The remaining productions in the series are the "Boston Tea Party" Oct. 10, and the Preservation Hall Jazz Band Oct. 20.

Hall Files Suit Against Denial Of Application

Robert Hall Friday appealed to Lancaster District Court a denial by the Lincoln City Council of an application for a plat of Iron Horse Park at approximately 98th and Van Dorn.

The plaintiff contends that the application was reviewed by appropriate city departments and the planning director with a recommendation for approval subject to certain conditions.

According to the petition, the plaintiff indicated a willingness to comply with the conditions, but on Aug. 5 the City Council refused to grant approval of the preliminary plat plan.

The plaintiff alleges that the decision was arbitrary and capricious and asks the court to reverse the action.

Douglas Park Dedication Set Sunday

Douglas — Dedication ceremonies for the newly renovated Douglas Park will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Included in the $54,000 project in the park is a new tennis-basketball court, surrounded by a chain link fence with a coin-operated lighting system. The new baseball diamond includes 10 rows of bleachers. A new picnic and playground areas were also part of the renovation.

Near 60% Saline Milo Crop Lost

Crete — About 60% of the 84,000 acres of milo in Saline County was destroyed by the early September freeze, according to Saline County Agent Jim Emal. Low-lying crops along the Blue River, Swan and Turkey creeks appear to be delayed beyond recovery by the frost, he stated. Most of the damage to the milo was the delay caused by the frost on an already late crop due the unusually dry weather this summer, he explained.

Republicans To Hear Iowa's Kyl

John Kyl, former Iowa congressman, will be the speaker at a $25 a plate Republican fund-raising dinner in Grand Island Sept. 21. The event is being sponsored by 16 counties in the middle of Nebraska in an effort to replenish the party treasury. The party coffers are at "rock bottom," according to state GOP Chairman William Barrett of Lexington.

Industrial Nurses To Confer In Omaha

Omaha — Dr. Paul Saville, Omaha physician, will address the first meeting of the year of the Nebraska Association of Industrial Nurses at the group's Sept. 21 gathering at the Nebraska Savings and Loan Association, 132nd and Center. He will discuss rheumatoid diseases. The meeting is set for 10 a.m.

Child Musicians Due At Concordia

Seward — The Suzuki talent education touring group will stop at Concordia Teachers College in Seward Oct. 1. There will be a workshop directed by Suzuki trained Japanese teachers at 1 p.m. in Weller Auditorium, and a concert by the child musicians at 8 p.m. in the physical education building on the Concordia campus.

Nebraskans Training In Alaska

Anchorage, Alaska — About 130 Nebraska Air National Guard members are participating in the joint Air Force-Army exercise Ember Dawn 75, a two-week exercise to give Army and Air Force units training in an Artic summer environment. The Husker Guardsmen are flying reconnaissance missions in four of their RF-4C "Phantom" jets.

Bellevue Issue Going To Voters

Bellevue (AP) — Bellevue voters will decide Sept. 24 on a $15 million bond issue to finance most of a 10-year building program for Bellevue's growing school district.

The program calls for 18 construction projects, including a second high school, a new junior high, additions to two existing junior highs and four existing elementary schools and five new elementary schools.

School officials say the growing enrollment, now up to 11,000 students, has put the district five years behind in building needs.

Changes Eyed

Two proposed reorganizations will be considered at a State Committee for the Reorganization of School Districts meeting Saturday in Lincoln.

One proposal for Custer County would attach a portion of Dist. 74 to Dist. 180. Another, for Brown County, would dissolve Dist. 16 and attach it to Dist. 71.

Center On Agenda

Directors of the Nebraska State Historical Society will consider final plans for a John G. Neihardt Center in Bancroft at an executive board meeting 2 p.m. Sept. 21 at the Lincoln Hilton hotel.

New Trial Requested For Nokes

By United Press International

An attorney for Harold Nokes of McCook, who is serving consecutive life terms for the shooting deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hoyt of rural Culvertson, asked the State Supreme Court Friday for a new trial.

In the alternative, the attorney asked that the consecutive life terms run concurrently.

The Hoyts were shot in the basement of the Nokes home last September following an argument involving Mrs. Kay Hein, a daughter of the Hoyts, who was involved in a relationship with the Nokes.

Mrs. Nokes is serving a prison term for unlawful disposal of a body.

Bodies Dissected

The Hoyts were shot, their bodies dissected and the parts were later found in Harry Strunk Lake.

On appeal, Nokes' attorney said it was wrong of the Red Willow County District Court to accept a guilty plea to the first degree murder charge filed in the death of Mrs. Hoyt and that the attorney who originally handled the case was ineffective.

In the district court, Richard Hove of Kearney represented both Edwin and Ena Nokes.

Nokes pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the death of Edwin Hoyt, who was shot first.

However, said the attorney handling the appeal for Nokes, just because Mrs. Hoyt was shot second doesn't mean that the premeditation required in first degree murder existed.

'No Malice'

"From the uncontradicted statements of appellant as to his state of mind at the time he shot Mrs. Hoyt, it is apparent that the element of premeditated malice had not been formed," said attorney James Kelley of Lincoln.

There was some plea bargaining involved, Kelley said. But he said that didn't do away with the fact that premeditation had to be present.

In challenging the effectiveness of Hove, Kelley listed a series of 13 points in error and said "his trial counsel did none of the things which would be expected of competent counsel as a rudimentary defense of so complicated a set of charges."

Among the 13 points was a contention that in handling both cases there was a conflict of interest.

Humm And The Record Book

Dave Humm, Nebraska's quarterback for the third consecutive season, already owns eight Cornhusker school records and he's within range of at least three others.

Humm, who is a prime candidate for All-American and Heisman Trophy honors, echoes the feelings of all his teammates when he says he'd prefer a Big Eight Conference Championship rather than individual recognition.

DAVE HUMM

The honors will come naturally if, in fact, the title comes to Huskerland.

Humm is coming off a junior season which didn't quite measure up to his sophomore debut except in won-lost record. Both years Nebraska was 9-2-1, including victories in bowl games.

Humm's career totals in the Husker press book don't include bowl games, which aren't counted in official NCAA statistics. The school records, however, do include bowl performances.

The records Humm is approaching all are held by Jerry Tagge, now the quarterback for the Green Bay Packers.

He has attempted 594 passes in his career (Tagge's record is 637), completed 267 (Tagge 377), and his aerials have gained 3,860 (Tagge 5,071). With any kind of a season at all he should get all three marks.

The lefthander from Las Vegas, Nev., has added a new dimension to his attack since he will be running more than in his first two seasons.

He should be effective, too, because he will have more of a fullback running threat with Tony Davis switched from I-back and sturdy John O'Leary and Ritch Bahe also potent runners from I-back and wingback.

Statistics on his previous running don't tell a true story because NCAA rules count losses attempting to pass against the running game. Just how many of his 93 runs were meant to be passes aren't shown in the statistics, but he has gained 157 yards and lost 264 for a net of minus 107 yards.

Humm's Career Record

NWU Faces Opener With QB Questions

By CHUCK SINCLAIR

A bit of uncertainty plays a part in the game plan employed by Nebraska Wesleyan football coach Harold Chaffee as the Plainsmen prepare for their season and home opener with Colorado Mines Saturday night.

Following a preseason tuneup scrimmage last Saturday, Chaffee came away undecided on many positions, including quarterback.

The head Wesleyan mentor has indicated the starting nod belongs to senior Andy Federle from Harrison but added "we're going to find the guy who can move the ball club, and if Andy can't do it, we'll try Klaus, (Dan, a sophomore from Beatrice)."

Also on the quarterback depth chart is sophomore Larry Schmitt from Lansing, Ill., who Chaffee admits is "probably a better passer than the others, but lacks the experience in reading defenses."

Fullback is another position still uncertain as the Orediggers visit Lincoln for the first time. Ken Berg is slated to start the game, but Chaffee again indicated that there may be some juggling throughout the game.

Two freshmen, both from Lincoln, have been tabbed as possible starters for the Plainsmen as they attempt to better a 4-3-1 mark from 1973.

Chuck Biggs, Lincoln Northeast and Tom Wade, Pius X, may both start at linebacking positions for NWU. Wade is

Dan Klaus

Andy Federle

tabbed for alternating duty with lettermen Dan Dye and Randy Schmailzl while Biggs is listed by himself as the starting monster back.

Chaffee is expecting a tough opening opponent in the Golden, Colo. school. "They have a lot of seniors, (10) and they're all starting, nine on offense and one on defense," he noted.

The Orediggers are looking to improve on last year's 0-9 season when 15 starters were sidelined by injuries in the first three games.

Mines probably will feature a lot of passing on offense with triple letterman Dennis Lockett, twice an all-Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference quarterback on a trio of three-letter receivers returning in Ted Allen, Hoy Frakes and Glen Gravender.

NWU will outweigh the Orediggers seven pounds a man on offense, but will give up five pounds apiece on defense.

Links' Defense Blanks Papio

By DAVE SITTLER

Lincoln High's proud and rugged defense came through with its second shutout in as many outings Friday night at Seacrest Field, as the Links rolled over Papillion, 37-0.

Impressive in its 7-0 season-opening victory over Pius X last Friday, the Links defense proved it's for real by not yielding a Papillion first down until only six minutes were left in the third period.

Led by all-state linebacker Mike Washington and tackles Charles Metzger and Randy Taft, Lincoln High held the visiting Monarachs to a minus 13-yards rushing while upping their record to 2-0.

Coach Jerry Ball's Links didn't wait long to get on the scoreboard in this first game ever in the newly formed I-80 Conference, when quarterback Ralph Kuwamoto scored on a 19-yard keeper with little less then a minute gone in the contest.

Typically, it was the Lincoln High defense which set up the score. Defensive cornerback Gary Tarrence intercepted Papillion quarterback Kevin Pollard's first pass of the game and returned it to the 19.

Kuwamoto, faking superbly, sucked the Papillion defense into the middle, and the 5-11, 180-pound quarterback raced around the left end unmolested and the Links' scoring barrage was underway.

Terrance got Lincoln High's second score with 8:34 left in the second quarter on a 12-yard run which capped a seven-play drive. Halfback Gary Downs' 30-yard run keyed the 64-yard drive.

Washington added two scores on short plunges in the second and third quarter before reserve quarterback John Beaver connected with end Mark Rohnert for an 87-yard touchdown pass.

Rohnert made a one-handed circus catch of Beaver's pass and outraced two Papillion defenders the final 30yards to the end zone.

The final score of the evening was posted by the defense when junior tackle David Tivis tackled Papillion halfback Gary Timmerman in the end zone for a safety with less then two minutes remaining in the game.

"This game was a great win for us for two reasons," a happy coach Ball said. "Our defense proved their shutout against Pius was no freak accident. And our offense came through tonight and showed they could score."

Ball credited his club's defensive effort to the work of assistant coach Marv Mueller when he noted, "Coach Mueller works completely with the defensive sets. I don't even worry about it because he does such a great job."

Knights Blank Platters, 24-0

By STEVE GILLESPIE
Star Sports Writer

North Platte — Undefeated Lincoln Southeast, 2-0, used the long play here Friday night to blank North Platte, 24-0 in a Trans-Nebraska Conference game.

The passing of Tim Hager to Randy Clements scored one touchdown and set up another while defensive end Jim Zilly grabbed a North Platte fumble in mid air and then went 82 yards to score.

Hager's touchdown pass to Clements covered 29 yards with 8:44 left in the first quarter and finished a 79-yard, 8-play drive on the Knight's first possession.

In the third quarter a 44-yard pass completion between Hager and Clements put the ball on the Bulldog's 3-yard line.

Fullback Dick Meginnis then scored from a yard out with 8:26 remaining two plays later.

LSE Coach Frank Solich credited Don Pegler with tackles that jarred the ball loose twice from North Platte runners, which resulted in the Knights recovering both fumbles and the last one Zilly took to start his scoring run.

Knight standout middle guard Kelvin Rockrs hurt his knee trying to kick the PAT after Zilly's touchdown, but Solich said he believed the injury wasn't serious even though the senior didn't play the rest of the game.

The Knights added their last touchdown after Dave Hassebrook intercepted a pass from North Platte's Steve Liberg.

Hassebrook returned from the Bulldogs' 35 to the 10 and four plays later Hager threw a 7 yard touchdown pass to Randy Foster with 3:49 left in the game.

The turning point in the game was probably Zilly's touchdown with 5:55 left because North Platte was threatening to score and trailing, 12-0.

The Bulldogs played Southeast almost even during most of the game, but couldn't make the big play while giving up three to the Knights.

"Those three big plays were the key for us," Solich said.

"North Platte is a good team and it wouldn't have been the kind of game it was, if we wouldn't have made the big play and then stopped North Platte on defense."

North Platte, 0-2, also threatened in the second quarter by going from its own 23 to the Knights' 10 before the capital city team held on downs.

Pius X Romps, 39-0

By CHUCK SINCLAIR
Prep Sports Writer

Omaha — An unscheduled and unsuccessful attempt to keep Lincoln Pius X in the dark by University of Nebraska at Omaha officials Friday night failed as the 'Bolts struck up some lightning of their own and marched away with a convincing 39-0 thrashing of host Omaha Northwest.

The lights at UNO field were inoperative for the entire first quarter of the inter-class battle between Class B Pius X and Class A Northwest.

But Pius X, wearing the darker uniforms, was able to sneak through the Huskies' defense unnoticed for a 6-0 first-quarter lead on halfback Tom Doggett's four-yard burst with 5:27 remaining. The point-after attempt hit the crossbar and bounded into the 'Bolts' backfield.

After the lights were turned on midway in the second quarter, coach Vince Aldrich's Thunderbolts went to the air.

Aldrich joked about the lack of lights.

"I told the official if they didn't turn on the lights, we couldn't throw the ball. Actually, you couldn't ask for a better place to play than here," he said.

After Pius X hit the airwaves in the second quarter, it took

Spartans Top Grand Island

By BOB MOYER

Grand Island — It looked for awhile like Lincoln East might succumb to a Friday the 13th jinx, but the Spartans finally put it together in the second quarter and went on to defeat Grand Island, 21-8, at Memorial stadium here Friday night.

East's offense couldn't get untracked in the early going partially because of three consecutive offsides penalties on first downs the Spartan's first three possessions.

"I don't know what was wrong with us," said East head football coach Zentic.

"We just seemed to be in a twilight zone at the beginning. We were having trouble with our snap and they were shifting around on defense and causing us to go offside."

Grand Island was the first team to get untracked, marching to the East 5-yard line late in the first quarter. But with the third and goal situation, the Islanders could not convert as the East line held and forced Grand Island to turn over the ball.

But East's problems were still not over. Early in the second quarter Grand Island forced the Spartans to punt and a high snap handcuffed East's punter Perry Haberman.

Haberman attempted to run with the ball but was hit by Grand Island's Gary Billesbach near the goal, popping the ball loose and into the end zone where Grand Island's Steve Schweiger recovered for the TD. Grand Island then added a two-point conversion when GI quarterback Dick Placceck niftily passed to Scott Fischer.

For some reason, the Spartans came to life after the GI touchdown.

East executed a well-done 12-play, 55-yard drive on the very next series with Doug Caulkins scoring the first of his two touchdowns on a two-yard run.

East missed on the extra point but came back late in the first half with a 77-yard bomb from quarterback Bill Holmes to Pat Scott to take the lead. Holmes then hit Scott again for the two-point conversion to lift East to a 14-8 half-time margin.

"They (Grand Island's defensive backs) were coming up so much on our sweeps that we just had to throw some bombs to loosen them up," said Zentic. "I really thought our passing game was pretty good for the second game of the season."

In the second half, East continued to dominate the play behind the strong running of Sam Yowell and the defensive secondary play of Karl Voss and Holmes.

York Rolls, 33-14

York — Accumulating 357 rushing yards, York rolled to a 33-14 Central Ten Conference football triumph here Friday night over David City.

Junior fullback Kim Baker rushed for 165 yards, including touchdown runs of 73 and 70 yards. He also made seven unassisted tackles and six assists stops and punted twice for an average of 46 yards per kick.

Junior halfback Jay Elkins scored three touchdowns on runs of 35 and four yards and on a one-yard run. Senior John Nicholson booted three extra points.

Omaha Benson Rambles Past South

By RANDY YORK
Prep Sports Editor

Omaha — Omaha Benson stamped itself as solid No. 1 ratings material here Friday night with a 28-0 Central Conference win over Omaha South before an overflow crowd of 6,000 at Bergquist Stadium.

Although the expected individual showdown between Benson's Bobby Bass and South's Mike Burton never materialized, Bass did help key the win with a 19-yard touchdown run on a halfback draw early in the second quarter.

Bass also set up Benson's third touchdown when he run 11 yards on a delay play to advance the ball to the one-yard line where speedster Charles Green scored on the next play.

That gave the Bunny's a commanding 20-0 cushion with 6:58 to play in the third quarter. Benson added an insurance touchdown when second team quarterback James Morrison swept right end for 9 yards with 3:46 to play.

Benson's opening touchdown in the first quarter was set up when South's Sam Wilcoxon was credited with a zero-yard punt on his own 21 yard line. The Bunnys needed only 3 plays to cover the distance with hard-running fullback Robert Woodworth busting 12 yards up the middle for the touchdown.

Bass, seeking to become an All-Stater for a third season, finished with 65 yards rushing on 13 carries. South's Burton accumulated only 35 yards on 14 carries.

Burton, checked to three yards or less on 11 of his carries, ran the ball only twice in the second half as Benson's swarming defense maintained control throughout.

"I think you would have to call that a tremendous defensive effort," Benson coach Roger Sorensen observed. "Any time we shut someone out, it's pleasing. But when you shut out a team like South, which averaged more than 30 points a game last year and had 41 last week it's especially pleasing."

Sorensen added: "Every kid carried out his assignment tonight. We mixed up about six different defenses and our players laid back when they had to."

Sorensen noted that Benson's "bandit defense" checked Burton. Every third play, we had one of our safties going everywhere Burton went. It's a regular part of our defense, but tongith seemed like a good time to improvise the "bandit defense."

Benson's mastery of South on the offensive and defensive lines were equally responsible for the Bunny's surprisingly lopsided win, according to Sorensen. "Our line whipped their line all the way," he observed.

South got itself into the 20-0 hole when the Packers decided to have Benson punt again instead of taking the ball at midfield midway through the third quarter.

Benson regained possession on the re-punt when South's Howard Kimble fumbled the ball at mid-field. A 25-yard William Callahan to Andre Jack pass and a 12-yard Callahan to Mark Poe pass keyed Benson's drive for the third quarter touchdown.

Benson, which opened with an impressive 32-7 win over Omaha Burke last week, will put its 2-0 record on the line next Friday night against Creighton Prep.

Brown Still Has Score To Settle With Browns

By United Press International

Paul Brown has a couple of scores to settle with the Cleveland Browns.

Brown, the head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals who coached the Browns from 1946-62, has seen his current team lose six of eight regular season meetings to his former club since the Bengals' inception in 1968. Six of those games have been decided by seven points or less and five of them were either three or four point margins.

The Bengals posted a 4-2 record during the pre-season, dropping their last two games, to Cleveland in the final six seconds and to Green Bay in the last two seconds.

"We don't like to go into the regular season coming off two straight losses," said Brown, "but we've worked this week at getting ready and rectifying the things that went wrong in the pre-season.

"All games are important but the opener with Cleveland is doubly so because it is with a team in our division."

Ken Anderson, starting his fourth pro season, will quarterback the Bengals and most of his passes will be aimed at receivers Isaac Curtis, Charlie Joiner and tight end Bob Trumpy. Bengal running backs will be Boobie Clark and either Essex Johnson, Charlie Davis or Lenvil Elliott.

Cleveland, a young club, dropped four of its six exhibition games. Mike Phipps will again quarterback the Browns who are expected to make greater use of second year running back Greg Pruitt and receiver Steve Holden. Almost 50 percent of the Browns' 47-man roster, 23 players, have two years or less of pro experience.

Pre-season forecasts have the Bengals and Browns fighting it out for second place in the American Football Conference's Central Division. The division favorite is Pittsburgh and the Steelers, who meet Baltimore, rule as 16 point favorites to open the campaign with a victory as they begin their quest to unseat Miami as AFC champion.

The Dolphins, who have won the AFC title the last three seasons and the Super Bowl the last two years, open against New England while Sunday's other nine games find Washington against the New York Giants at New Haven, Conn., the New York Jets at Kansas City, Detroit at Chicago, Minnesota at Green Bay, Philadelphia at St. Louis, San Diego at Houston, San Francisco at New Orleans, Los Angeles at Denver and Dallas at Atlanta.

Miller Blasts 8-Under-Par

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Johnny Miller, who has the happy habit of uncorking extremely low rounds, birdied five of his first six holes, posted an eight-under-par 63 and stormed into the second-round lead Friday in the $300,000 World Open Golf Tournament.

"This is an exceptional round," said Miller, already the holder of six titles this year and the season's leading money winner with more than $256,000.

"I try to get all I can when I've got it going. When I make a couple of birdies, I just want to make more," he said.

His score was within one shot of the record on the famed No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club and gave him a onestroke lead over veteran Frank Beard halfway through this chase for a whopping $60,000 first prize, the biggest in golf this year.

Miller had a 36-hole total of 136, six under par.

Beard, who has been in a deep slump for two years, fashioned a 70 for 137.

U. S. Open champion Hale Irwin, seeking to atone for what he called "an embarrassing experience" in his poor play in last week's World Series of Golf, and Australian David Graham were next at 138. Irwin had another 69 and Graham birdied his last three holes for 68.

Jack Nicklaus hit two sand traps and three-putted for a double bogey on his first hole, three-putted two other times and still managed a 71 for 139.

"I was in position to get, oh, maybe six under, but I wasted too many shots," Nicklaus said.

He was tied at three under par and three strokes back with first-round leader Bob Murphy, Lee Elder, Gene Littler, Mike Hill and Nate Starks. Hill had a 67, Littler 70, Starks and Elder matched par 71 and Murphy took a 74.

Lee Trevino blew to a 74 and 141.

Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and 62-year-old Sam Snead all missed the cut for the last two rounds. Player had 77—151, Palmer 72—150 and Snead 73—147. All three had been inducted into the Hall of Fame earlier this week.

Miller, a slender blond who has been the sensation of the tour this season, has made low rounds his trademark in a six-year pro career. He once had a 61 in the Phoenix Open. He shot 62 in the Tucson Open earlier this year. He had a record 63 in the final round of his 1973 U. S. Open triumph.

"This was very similar to the '63 at Oakmont (in the Open)," he said.

He made two putts from the 12-foot range, twice hit irons inside of four feet, and holed a 60-foot putt from the fringe to go five under for the day only six holes deep into the round.

Miller made it from 20 feet on the 12th hole, eagled the par-five 16th with a 25-foot putt after reaching the green with a three-wood second shot, and just missed making eagle two on the last hole. He failed on a 10-foot birdie putt that would have tied the course record.

Blalock Captures First Round Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Jane Blalock of Highland Beach, Fla., birdied three consecutive holes Friday for a two-under-par 69 to capture the first round lead in the second annual $40,000 Charity Golf Classic.

Miss Blalock, No. 2 on the LPGA money list at $68,000, shot birdies on holes five, six and seven and sank a 25-footer on hole seven.

"When the conditions are not good, I think I buckle down and play better," Miss Blalock said of the Woodhaven Country Club course which was blasted by a cold front. "I grew up in Florida and I'm not used to playing in the wind. I hit a lot of knock down shots today."

Tied at 70 in second place are Sandra Spuzich of Indianapolis and defending champ Sandra Haynie of Dallas.

There were no par 71s and at 72 were Sue Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, and Lenore Vessera of Woodland Hills, Calif.

Six others shot 73s, including Kathy Whitworth, last year's leading money winner at $82,000 and fifth on the LPGA list this year with $48,800.

Miss Blalock said she rejected an offer to play in Japan this week because she was more interested in going after the LPGA money title.

"This is the first year that we've really had a race for the money title," she said. "Any person with a competitive attitude who thrives on excellence needs a goal one step ahead of you where it takes a lot of determination and work."

Omahan Leads Iowa Open Golf

Council Bluffs, Iowa (AP) — Joe Wall of Omaha scored 68 to lead in the first round of the Iowa Open golf tournament Friday at Lakeshore Country Club.

That was one stroke ahead of last year's runnerup, Roger Buhrt of Minneapolis, and Steve Kehrer of Des Moines. Kehrer won the Iowa amateur in 1973.

Tied at par 71 were Larry Romjue of Lincoln and Gary Grunemeier and Ralph Heavrin of Omaha.

Defending champion John Benda of Humboldt ended with 76 and J. D. Turner, the home pro and three-time former champion, shot 74.

The tournament will continue with 18 holes Saturday and Sunday.

Reds Top Dodgers

Los Angeles (UPI) — Dave Concepcion drove a three-run homer off knuckleballer Charley Hough in the eighth inning Friday night and Jack Billingham became the National League's first 19-game winner of the season Friday night in a 6-3 Cincinnati Reds' victory over Los Angeles which sliced the Dodgers' West Division lead to 2½ games.

A capacity crowd of 52,337 jammed Dodger Stadium to watch the opener of the final series of the year between the clubs and saw the Reds snap a five-game Dodger winning streak in beating Los Angeles for only the fifth time in 16 tries.

With the Reds leading 3-2 Concepcion hit his 12th homer of the season into the Dodger bullpen in leftfield with Joe Morgan aboard on a walk and Johnny Bench on base on a fielder's choice. After Morgan led off the eighth with a walk, Bench hit what appeared to be a double play to second baseman Dave Lopes. Lopes fielded the ball but shortstop Bill Russell dropped the throw at second for an error.

Billingham, improving his record to 19-9, was taken out after giving up a run-scoring single to Bill Buckner with two out in the Dodger eighth.

The Reds took a 1-0 lead in the second when Tony Perez hit his 22nd homer of the year off Doug Rau, the Dodger starter and loser, now 13-8. Ron Cey tied the score with his 17th homer with two out in the bottom of the inning.

Cincinnati scored single runs in the third and fourth innings. In the third Dan Driessen tripled and scored on an infield out. Concepcion drew a walk with two-out in the fourth, stole second and third and scored on Cesar Geronimo's single.

Litter Found On Property Judge Owns

Omaha (AP) — The judge who declared part of Omaha's anti-litter ordinance unconstitutional owns lots in Omaha that are littered, according to the city's public properties department.

Sam Bonaiuto, building maintenance superintendent in charge of weed control, said Douglas County District Court Judge Rudolph Tesar owns 29 parcels of land around the city ranging in size from a single lot to several acres. Most parcels are vacant.

Bonaiuto said, "There's a lot of litter on his properties. In some cases, it could hamper us in cutting weeds."

The section of the litter ordinance declared unconstitutional by Tesar says:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to litter or to cause or allow litter to be deposited in any place, or for any property owner or person in control of property to allow litter to remain on such property, other than in proper receptacles provided thereof."

Tesar has said the section is "vague and indefinite."

City prosecutor Gary Buchino declined comment on whether Tesar could be prosecuted under the section he voided.

Madam Not Eligible For Return To U.S.

Washington (UPI) — The State Department said that former New York madam Xaviera Hollander is ineligible to return to the United States.

Miss Hollander, a Dutch citizen by birth, left the United States under deportation proceedings in 1972. She now lives in Canada.

Tight Lid Continues In Scottsbluff Deaths

Scottsbluff (UPI) — Authorities continued to keep a tight lid on investigative information surrounding a double shooting death Friday but did indicate the two victims knew each other.

The bodies of Roy Salazar, 31, and James Barnica, 37, both of Scottsbluff, were found in Salazar's East Scottsbluff home early Thursday.

Police Chief James Eckert said Salazar's wife discovered the bodies when she returned home from work. Two handguns were found near the bodies, but Eckert said there were no further visible signs of a struggle.

Both Eckert and County Atty. Marvin Holscher confirmed that the two were "acquaintances" but declined to elaborate.

"We don't want to be premature on disclosing anything," Holscher said, "we hope to put everything together in the next couple of days."

Eckert said tentative information he had showed that both men were factory workers in the Scottsbluff area. He said he believed Barnica had been married, but was now divorced.

Eckert and Holscher said test results, including autopsies, hadn't been received.

Eckert said information he had at hand indicated that neither of the men had significant prior arrest records.

Lincoln Hilton Open For Game

More than half of the Lincoln Hilton will be open for the first University of Nebraska football-game weekend, according to Bennett S. Martin, stockholder in the hotel.

Banquet facilities and half of the guest rooms will be open, he said.

Martin also announced that Balcor Realty Investors Ltd.-74, based in Chicago, has decided to share ownership in the hotel with H-H Hotels, Inc., which is owned by the Martin and Kingery families of Lincoln.

Gretna Robbery Trial Ordered

Papillion (AP) — Sarpy County Judge Jeffrey Campbell has ordered Jonathan Lynn Lewis, 19, of Gretna to stand trial for the Aug. 8 armed robbery of the Gretna State Bank.

Lewis, arrested hours after the holdup, pleaded innocent Thursday. Judge Campbell continued Lewis' $5,000 bond.

Series Of 8 Tax Reforms Urged By Candidate Dyas

By The Associated Press

Democratic congressional candidate Hess Dyas Friday called for a series of eight tax reforms, including elimination of federal "welfare for the wealthy."

Dyas outlined his proposal in a position paper on federal taxation, one of a series of papers he said he is issuing prior to the Nov. 5 general election.

Dyas said the need for federal tax reform is urgent and that "little if any meaningful tax reform action has taken place in recent years in this pressing area of concern."

He criticized the voting record of his opponent, incumbent 1st District Rep. Charles Thone. He said Thone voted against consideration of tax reform measures in 1972 and in 1973.

Dyas said a study by a congressional committee showed that of an estimated $77 billion of federal tax loopholes, $60 billion benefit the wealthiest 20 per cent of the population.

The reforms proposed by Dyas included:

A tougher policy in minimum income tax payments; elimination of tax breaks for industries building factories in foreign countries; a change in the social security tax system; an end to the preferential tax treatment of capital gains income; ending the tax exempt status of state and municipal bonds; more stringent treatment of "hobby farm" tax deductions; ending depreciation allowances in excess of cost for the production of gas, oil and minerals; stopping the use of the income tax "as a tool for social engineering.

"Too often," Dyas said, "the use of the tax system to promote desirable programs results in tax breaks and loopholes for the very wealthy, at the expense of the middle and lower income taxpayer."

3 Billion Smokes Draw Tax Money

The State Tax Reseatch Council said Nebraskans paid tax on more than 3 billion cigarettes in fiscal 1973. That is nearly 153 packs for every Nebraskan 18 or older.

The state received more than $20 million in cigarette taxes during that fiscal year, according to the council.

L.A. To Fluoridate

Los Angeles (UPI) — The city Council passed by a 10-5 vote a controversial measure to fluoridate the city's water supply and it was signed into law.

THE END OF YOUR LOOKING FOR THE RIGHT JOB

I want two young men I can take under my wing & develop into executives of a fast growing new company. Though background will be taken into consideration, immaculate appearance & outgoing personality are prime requisites.

We have tried public relations men & other people of this caliber but we have found thru experience some peoples habits have already been formed. Because our company is unusual, we would prefer to train people & cultivate their bad habits ourselves.

This is not selling door-to-door, it is an office position for which a fair salary will be paid while training.

We have no time for the Mister Milktoast or people who will not follow directions, so please do not apply for this job unless you look the part, feel the part & act the part. If you are looking for a fantastic opportunity to move along to greatness, send a preliminary resume & we will call you for personal interview.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE – Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 9-14
